ASSERT FDR FIGURES SHOW DEFENSE NEED

Senator Byrd Calls For One-Man Direction of National Preparedness Program.

GOT DATA FROM LAND

Senator Points to 'Dangerous Delay' In Output of Needed Equipment.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D., Va., said today that President Roosevelt's own figures on defense production indicate the "imperative need" for "one-man" direction of the preparedness program.

Byrd, replying to criticism by the president, yesterday at Hyde Park, revealed that figures on which he based a charge that the defense program is far behind schedule came from official government sources.

Mr. Roosevelt had challenged Byrd's figures on plane, tank and gun production and said somebody had "sold the senator down the river on the figures."

Byrd issued a statement disclosing that Chairman Emory S. Land of the maritime commission, was his source for the statement that only 53 merchant vessels were built and delivered during 1940, and that 105 cargo vessels and tankers would be constructed in 1941.

He said that Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox was his authority for the statement that only 28 major naval vessels would be added to the navy in 1941.

"Does the president dispute these sources?" asked Byrd.

Byrd also gave figures on anti-aircraft gun and tank production in his senate speech criticizing production delays. He said they came from "an indisputable government source."

"The president corrects my estimate of four 90-mm. guns monthly and said the program calls for 61 monthly for the balance of the year," Byrd said. "The future production is of course problematical, but whether four or 61 99-mm guns are produced monthly for the rest of the year, either figure is woefully inadequate, considering our great need for this particular protective implement."

He said that since he stated that no tanks had been sent to England he learned that about 200 light 12-ton tanks were sent to Africa for British use, but he reiterated that not one medium 32-ton tank had been sent the British anywhere and not a single heavy 60-ton tank is on order.

Byrd added that even with Mr. Roosevelt's reliance on "future

Police Check On Looting of Six Autos In City

Mansfield police redoubled their efforts today to catch up with auto looters who have ransacked six cars parked on city streets during the past week.

Latest to report theft from his automobile was C. W. Rauchfuse, Parma, who told police a set of golf clubs and bag, valued at $100 and an auto robe worth $6 had been taken while his car was parked on West Third street.

Mrs. Pete Mayer, 142 Vale avenue, reported that someone had battered the lock and handle off the rear compartment of her auto while it was parked in the rear of her home. The compartment was ransacked but a tire and wheel had previously been removed by Mrs. Mayer.

Two other motorists complained to police yesterday that their autos had been damaged in unsuccessful attempts to burglarize them.

Ralph Stafford, 57½ East Third street, reported that two windows

$1 Down, $1 Week Buying Near End for Mansfielders

The day when Mansfielders paid $1 down and $1 a week for a radio or washing machine neared an end today as the federal reserve board ordered sharp curbs on installment buying beginning Sept. 1.

These new regulations were designed to drastically reduce the $7,000,000,000 annually spent on installment buying in order to conserve materials needed in national defense and prevent an inflationary spiral in consumer goods prices.

The federal reserve, acting under authority of a presidential executive order, issued regulations covering virtually every type of business which uses installment credit.

After Sept. 1, no credit for purchases of 24 selected articles may be extended for longer than 18 months.

The articles and the required down payments are:

One-third of the purchase price—automobiles, airplanes, gliders, power-driven boats and their motors, outboard boat motors, motorcycles and motor bicycles.

Twenty per cent—mechanical refrigerators, washing machines, household ironers, vacuum cleaners, cooking stoves and ranges

GENERAL STRIKE THREATENED IN DETROIT TIE-UP

AFL Says 160,000 Will Walk Out If City Attempts to Operate Cars, Buses.

(By International News Service)

DETROIT—Blunt warning that if the city attempts to operate the strike-bound department of street railways 160,000 A. F. of L. workers in Wayne county will go out in general strike was served today upon Mayor Edward J. Jeffries by the A. F. of L. membership.

A resolution to this effect was adopted and given to the mayor. Translating the resolution for newspapermen, an A. F. of L. leader said:

"It means that should Mayor Jeffries as much as turn one DSR wheel with scab labor, the AFL will declare a general labor holiday affecting 160,000 workers in 223 AFL affiliated locals. It means that everything in the city that hures AFL labor will be tied up indefinitely."

Meanwhile, as the dispute appeared to be as far from settlement as when it was ordered by the A. F. of L. early Wednesday, the general public rapidly accustomed itself to getting along without street cars and buses.

After a new peace proposal presented by Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, was rejected by A. F. of L. leaders early today, negotiators threw up their hands in apparent disgust and terminated discussions at 2 p. m.

In the light of this new rejection, there were many who thought the city would attempt to operate the municipally owned system next week under police protection. It was recalled that the CIO had offered men to operate the cars and buses.

The strike occurred following a long standing jurisdictional dispute between Division 26 of the A. F. of L. Street Car Men's union and a CIO local which has been attempting to gain some rights within the DSR setup.

Mayor Jeffries latest proposal appeared satisfactory to A. F. of L. men with the exception of one point which led to rejection.

The mayor proposed an election in the operating division within one week to determine whether the A. F. of L. or the CIO had a majority of the employes. If the

FIXES PRICE

Henderson Sets Ceiling on Crude Oil Listings.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Price Control Administrator Leon Henderson today set ceiling prices on Pennsylvania grade crude oils at levels prevailing before a recent 25-cent a barrel increase.

In announcing the price schedule, he said acceleration of defense activity and civilian industry has stimulated demand for high-grade lubricants "to an abnormal degree."

"This pressure on supplies of Pennsylvania grade crude oils has been reflected in a series of price increases aggregating about 50 per cent over the past nine months and quotations currently are at or near the highest levels in 10 years," Henderson asserted.

Fortune Smiles on Mansfielder; He's $5,200 Bank Night Winner

Luck Turns for Father Who Has 2-Year-Old Baby Seriously Ill.

By ESTHER SMITH

Fortune answered the prayers of a 50-year-old Mansfield father last night and changed his luck that had been consistently bad since the first of the year when illness started to plague his footsteps.

Fred Seith, shipping department clerk at the Tappan Stove company, won the bank night purse, given by the Warner Brothers theaters, plus payments from three bank night insurance policies. All totalled $5,200.

Seith, who lives at 167 East Third street, was working on the night shift, 3 p. m. to 11:30 p. m., when he was informed that the paymaster, Eddie Nolan, had just telephoned from the theater that his name had been called for $1,300. It was the largest single bank night award ever made here.

"I was dumfounded," said Seith. "At first I didn't believe it. I thought Gib Oswalt, who told me, was joking. Then I saw he was serious."

"The money will be a God's-blessing to us," explained the mild-manner soft-spoken father in commenting today on his streak of good fortune.

"I've been off work five months because of pneumonia and other reasons. Not long ago I smashed several fingers."

"Right now," he continued, "our little two-year old girl Shirley is ill and we don't know just what is the matter with her."

How Seith will spend his newly-acquired fortune will depend upon Shirley's condition. The child has been paralyzed on one side for two weeks and Seith fears there might be symptoms of infantile paralysis. Meanwhile the tot is Why shouldn't Fred Seith, above, grin? He won the bank night award of $1,300 last night and collected $3,900 more on three "bank night insurance policies" he had. That's $5,200, and plenty of reason to be building air castles.

COUNTY'S FAIR DISPLAYS MOVE TO STATE EVENT

Farm Show, Playing to Big Crowd, Ends; Races to Be Attraction Tonight.

Although the Richland county fair officially closed last night so far as exhibits are concerned, there will be midget auto racing again at 8 p. m. today and most of the concessions will still be operating during the evening, board members said.

The midget races, which have been the best drawing card for a county fair here in recent years, attracted nearly 4,000 people again last night. Yesterday's crowd, however, was smaller than the record 8,000 attendance Thursday.

The fair board officials estimated today that the attendance so far has been close to 20,000, considerably ahead of last year's admissions. Tonight's crowd for the auto races is expected to boost the total figure to one of the best in the last 10 years.

Displays of livestock, poultry, and other farm and garden produce were being removed today to go to the Ohio State fair which gets under way today in Columbus.

With ideal weather throughout the fair board officials considered it one of the most successful that has been held in Mansfield in several years.

The midget auto races provided a profitable substitute for horse racing, they said, and Klein's animal circus and the acrobatic acts in front of the grandstand were popular with the crowds.

Fair officials today were unable to state whether the farm show was a financial success.

"We haven't had a chance to check all of our receipts and there are a number of obligations which will have to be paid before we can determine this," Secretary Hale said.

Fair officials today also were busy checking up on premium awards.

FDR ENTERTAINS KING'S BROTHER

Expected to Broaden Picture Of War Situation During Hyde Park Visit.

(By United Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—President Roosevelt entertains the Duke of Kent, younger brother of King George of Great Britain, today.

The duke arrives at Hyde Park house by motor shortly after 5 p. m. from LaGuardia field, New York, where he is to land at 2:30 p. m. in his special airplane from Canada.

Mr. Roosevelt described the visit as strictly social.

Kent will be the president's house guest tonight and tomorrow, and will then accompany him back to Washington.

Mr. Roosevelt probably will extend his picture of Britain's war situation in chatting with

300 IDLE

Ohio Strike Cuts Off Supply Of Propeller Shafts.

SPRINGFIELD—(U.P.)—Approximately 300 men on an assembly line of the truck works of the International Harvester company here were idle today because of a strike in the company's Rockford, Ill., plant.

The Rockford strike has cut off the supply of propeller shafts necessary for assembling trucks here, plant officials said.

STILL NO WORD

Westinghouse Awaiting OPM Production Announcement.

Officials of the Mansfield Westinghouse plant were still awaiting information today on a proposed curtailment of production in the refrigerator industry and the possibility that a big defense order may be awarded to the firm here to help balance the drop in domestic production.

A company representative said no further word had been received from Washington since the Office of Production Management announced that production of household articles, including refrigerators, would be reduced sharply to make more materials and equipment available for defense orders.

Rumors are being circulated that a $2,000,000 defense contract is headed for the Westinghouse plant. An order of that size would help to keep the production rate up at the plant here.

The announcement that production of refrigerators may be slashed 50 percent increased the belief that industry here may soon feel the pinch of the inability of firms to obtain materials.

AFL Threatens to Ask Court Action Against CIO Pickets at Lima

LIMA—(U.P.)—The Superior Coach factory was closed today, for the third time in three weeks, as leaders of an AFL union threatened to ask a court injunction to prohibit CIO union members from picketing the plant.

The CIO has called a strike at the factory to enforce its demand for a National Labor Relations Board bargaining election. The company operates under a contract with the AFL.

Beightler Praises Destroyer Force Which Mansfield Helps to Direct.

The 37th Division's new streamlined "destroyer force," which Capt. Robert R. Springer of Mansfield is helping to direct, drew praise today from Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler for smashing an "enemy" tank attack in what the Division commander called the "most colorful and effective achievement of the maneuvers."

Capt. Springer, usually stationed at Camp Shelby, Miss., is with the soldiers from the 37th Division on maneuvers in southwestern Louisiana.

The destroyer force, composed of artillery, anti-tank, reconnaissance, engineer and chemical detachments, "saved" several divisions of the V army corps against a thrust by tanks of the Eighth army corps during ma-

FACES COURT

Mansfield Draftee Taken to Cleveland For Hearing.

Only a few hours after he was taken into custody by Mansfield police yesterday on a federal warrant charging violation of the selective service act, John Oakley Purdy, 25, of 191 Park Avenue east, was taken to Cleveland by U. S. deputy marshals to face arraignment.

In Cleveland, Purdy will be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner. He is liable to a prison term of five years or a $10,000 fine. Federal authorities may, however give him the alternative of going into the army.

Purdy was arrested upon complaint of officials of Draft Board No. 2 when he failed to appear for induction into the army on Aug. 11. Purdy stated that he was being held for a traffic violation in New York state on the date and was unable to be present. Draft officials, however, said that Purdy had received his notice of induction on June 23 and should have made plans to be in Mansfield

First of 21'ers To Receive Physical Exams Wednesday

Physical examinations for the first group of 21-year-old Richland countians who registered July 1 are scheduled for next Wednesday at the Mansfield Armory, selective service board clerks said today.

Approximately 30 of the younger registrants will be called for physical check-ups, the first of two they will receive before induction into the army.

The prospective selectees who meet the physical requirements are expected to be called for induction next month. Boards have received no calls for the rest of August.

The 21-year-olders who will go before the examining physicians and dentists Wednesday received low sequence numbers in the national lottery. Their numbers were distributed throughout the old list compiled last October which will mean that some of the younger boys will be called for training before all the youths in the 1-A classification of the first group are called.

The three Richland county boards still have a few men who have passed their examinations and are ready for induction, but the September calls are expected to take all of them.

Questionnaires have been mailed to all of the 21-year-old registrants and most of them have been returned to the boards. A number of the new registrants still must be classified, clerks said.

General Warns Enemy Nearing Russian City

Defenders Reported Under Pressure From Three Sides; Russians Stem Drives In South Face Advance By Finns From North Sector.

NEW YORK—(AP)—A British broadcast said today that according to reports from Bucharest, Rumanian and German troops are within nine miles of Odessa. The broadcast was heard by NBC.

BULLETIN

BERLIN—(INS)—German and Rumanian troops have broken through the heavily fortified line protecting Odessa, fall of the city is imminent, and all fortifications along the west bank of the Dnieper river have been taken, the German high command announced today.

(By Associated Press)

Soviet Marshal Klementi Voroshilov, in a dramatic appeal to the populace of Russia's second greatest city, acknowledged today that "a terrible danger is hanging over Leningrad" and that "the enemy is nearing" the sprawling industrial center on the Gulf of Finland.

"Dig yourself in! The decisive moment has arrived," Voroshilov proclaimed, even as Red armies defending the city, reinforced by troops rushed from Leningrad's garrison of 1,000,000 men, were reported under heavy pressure on three sides.

Previous reports had indicated the Russians were holding fast.

Meanwhile, Soviet dispatches said combined Red army forces and volunteers of a "people's army" had saved an unspecified city from German siege columns, hurling the Nazis back six miles in a fierce counter-attack. This may have been Odessa, Black sea port, which has been under siege for many days.

On the central front, dispatches to the army newspaper Red Star said incessant counter-attacks had resulted in recapture of nine German-held villages in the past 48 hours and that the Nazi 161st infantry division had been smashed.

Red Star said the Germans, driven from fortified positions, were rushing reserves into the battle but that the Russian advance was progressing.

For the first time, Moscow acknowledged that Soviet women were taking part in actual front-line fighting in some places.

A bulletin from the German fuehrer's headquarters gave no details of the 63-day-old struggle, declaring briefly:

"Operations on the east front continue according to plan."

In the past, such reticence by the Nazi high command was frequently concurred with stiffening Soviet resistance.

On the southern front, DNB, the official German news agency,

IRAN PREPARES FOR SHOWDOWN

Cancels Leaves of Officers After Reply to British Expulsion Demand.

(By Associated Press)

TEHERAN, Iran—Iran, anticipating a showdown on British-Russian demands for expulsion of German technicians from the country, has cancelled leaves for 1,072 newly-graduated army officers and has ordered them to the frontiers for active duty with 120,000 troops on guard there.

A government answer to a British-Russian note was delivered to the British minister yesterday. Iran was understood to have shown readiness to reduce the number of German technicians when their contracts in state-owned railroads and communications industries expire.

The answer, however, was reported to have stressed that Iran as a neutral, independent power, did not see why she should be forced to risk diplomatic rupture with Germany by expelling all German nationals at once.

(Sources in London indicated Great Britain would stand firm on her demands and was ready to send troops into Iran rather than permit an alleged 3,000 Germans to remain there. They said Lieut. Gen. Claude J. E. Auchinleck, middle east commander-in-chief, who visited London recently, probably gave Prime Minister Churchill a detailed report of British strength in that area.)

Iranians declared the British-Russian demands were window-dressing to cover plans to invade the country and establish contacts by which British troops could join Russians on the eastern front.

An official police statement said there were only 640 male Germans in the country and that in the past 45 days 50 of these have left.

TWO KILLED

Patrolman, Gunman Slain In Pittsburgh Gun Battle.

PITTSBURGH—(INS)—A policeman and a negro gunman were killed and another officer wounded today in a Hazelwood district gun battle which flared when the gunman resisted arrest.

Patrolman Tobias Brown, 45, father of three, was shot and killed by the negro, Raymond Harrison, as he fell on top of the prisoner while pushing him into a police radio car. Bullets pierced Brown's heart and head.

Harrison then shot Patrolman Joseph Boyle, 42, in the side. Boyle staggered around the car, his gun blazing. One shot entered Harrison's head.

James McGreevey, another policeman, also fired several shots at Harrison through the car's rear window.

Mansfield's State Guard Goes To Camp Perry Sunday

Before the crack of dawn tomorrow, Mansfield's Company F of the Ohio State Guard will board a special train for Camp Perry for a week of intensive field training.

Clad in their new blue uniforms, the 50 members of the Mansfield unit, headed by Capt. Glenn L. Bierly will march in formation from the state armory on Ashland road to the Baltimore and Ohio depot.

There they will meet three guard companies from Marietta, Zanesville and Washington, C. H. All units are members of the Second or Third regiments of the state guard which will go through a week's training together.

Mansfield guardsmen will meet today at 7:30 p. m. at the armory for inspection and to make a final check on equipment. The men will report back again at 4 a. m. in uniform. The baggage will be loaded on trucks for transport to the depot and the guardsmen will march there in formation.

Coffee and sandwiches are being provided for the Mansfield men and will also be served guardsmen arriving from the southern cities. The A. F. Remy Wholesale Food company has donated three cases of fruit for use by Company F while at camp.

Stressed in the field training period will be the use of firearms, bayonets and the handling of civil disturbances. Bierly explained that the Mansfield company is not a

GEN. JOHNSON:

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON — People must be tired of having rehashed this question of morale—both in the army and the civil population. Beginning weeks ago and more frequently lately this column has rung the changes on it and is reluctant to do so again.

Johnson

But the various alibis in some official comment makes it hard to keep still. President Roosevelt, quoting Lincoln speaking in very different circumstances, blames the American people. General Marshall blames the debate over the draft act. Mr. Knudsen exclaims, it seems almost regretfully, that "Main street hasn't been bombed yet." That is like Winston Churchill in World war one advocating the spilling of "a little American blood." Other authorities blame the families of soldiers for their sloppiness.

This isn't a very creditable exhibition—to put it mildly. The responsibility for morale, either of an army or a people, is on their leadership.

For that leadership to blame its followership is just like the father of a large family of worthless children blaming them for their lack of discipline and high principle. What is leadership for if not to inspire high purpose and principle in the people entrusted to it?

If the president doesn't think the American people are straining sufficiently at the leash to enter war abroad he should not forget that he repeatedly has assured them that no such thing would be necessary.

If he wants them to take him more seriously he should ease up on the Hollywood sideshows that he so dramatically stages at every opportunity. He should tell them some cold hard facts, instead of so many glittering generalities.

Paying a little attention to domestic problems without so much concentration on regulating the world's most distant scenes would also help.

Mr. Knudsen has been in there battling a full nine innings. It was his show. If it was a flop for lack of authority, he is to blame for not demanding what authority he needed—or getting out. He has not been frank enough with the American people to blame them. They don't need to be bombed to get into action. They only need to be convinced.

It was not very long ago that General Marshall was telling the public that the morale of the army was very high. He is responsible for keeping it high. If he thinks public debate is the cause of its fall, what is the answer? Abolish debate? Surely such an inbred American as General Marshall thinks no such thing.

No sir. As stated here recently, there is cause for the present undoubted dissatisfactions. But the cure is not to blame the complainants. The cure is competent, vigorous, honest and just leadership and organization. These chieftains need not worry about young American soldiers or the rank and file of American people. They can be forced to nothing.

They can be led to do almost anything if they are openly and honestly convinced and inspiringly led.

No, these leaders are wasting their worry on the soldiers and the people. They should do a little soul-searching and worry about themselves.

ASSERTS PLANE PLANTS LOSING ON U. S. ORDERS

Douglas Aircraft Official Says Debit Totaling Half Million Yearly.

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES—It is costing two Southern California aircraft manufacturers from half a million dollars a year to nearly eight times that much to build airplanes for the government, they told a United States senate committee investigating the national defense program.

On the army's new giant four-motored bomber, the B-19, Douglas Aircraft corp. has written off a loss of $2,570,122, Donald W. Douglas, president, testified.

The big plane so far has cost $3,970,685. Douglas said yesterday, and the government is to pay only $1,142,651 under its contract. A committee member asked if he expected to receive any further payments for the bomber, and Douglas replied, "I'm afraid not."

Douglas placed his company's loss on government contracts at $1,840,992 for the first six months of this year.

The loss of Northrop Aircraft, Inc., on government business during the last year was estimated by Gage H. Irving, vice president, at approximately half a million dollars. He said it was questionable whether it ever would break even on government contracts.

J. H. Kindelberger, president of North American Aviation, Inc., said gross profits on government planes have run as high as 30 per cent, but asserted the company has suffered a 20 per cent loss on its bomber contracts and estimated profits on government business as a whole at 10 per cent.

Declaring changes asked by the army and navy cause delays in plane construction, Douglas said they also make accurate cost estimates difficult.

Unwillingness of AFL and CIO aircraft union heads to meet together with manufacturers has blocked efforts toward wage stabilization, Douglas and Kindelberger told the committee.

STABBING OF GERMAN BRINGS PARIS RULING

General Declares Prisoners Will Be Shot In Case of Other Violence.

(By Associated Press)

VICHY, France—The lives of thousands of Frenchmen under arrest in occupied France were put in pawn by German military authorities today to halt acts of violence against members of the Nazi army of occupation.

Announcing that a member of the German army had been assassinated in Paris Thursday, General Ernst Von Schaumburg issued an order classing all those under arrest as hostages.

"In case of a new criminal attack," the order said, "a number of hostages corresponding to the gravity of the act committed will be shot.'

It is estimated here that approximately 150,000 Frenchmen have been arrested in the occupied zone since last May.

Von Schaumburg did not disclose the identity of the German slain, but it was reported in Vichy that he was a colonel on the Paris occupation staff. He was said to have been stabbed to death while in the subway.

The killing followed the arrest of 6,000 Jews, communists and De Gaulle sympathizers in workers sections of Paris. The roundup was said to be continuing, but on a smaller scale.

The Petain government, meanwhile, was reported to have decreed the death penalty for communist activity and to have prepared a serie of decrees to bring unoccupied France into line with German measures against growing unrest in Paris.

Recent advices from occupied France have told of numerous demonstrations and disturbances, which some quarters attributed in part to unemployment and a shortage of proper food.

Newspaper reports have indicated a reconciliation between communist elements in Paris and De Gaulle sympathizers since the German invasion of Russia began.

Vichy officials have expressed increasing concern over railroad sabotage, and have warned that drastic steps would be taken against saboteurs.

French army or navy courts martial will handle the cases in the unoccupied area, their verdicts calling for immediate execution without possibility of appeal. The decree applies to communists and leftists who previously have been subject only to civil courts.

In lesser cases prison terms up to life may be ordered, and offenses involving military or public officials may be punishable merely by fines.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

Legends of Broadway.

(No. 14—The Feuds)

PROBABLY when all the laughter ever heard on Broadway has been added up in some mazda-lighted Valhalla, it will be found that the loudest laughter, and the longest laughter, and the most laughter, was contributed by the feuds.

There is almost always a good feud or two along Broadway. They brew backstage in the theaters, climax hilariously in night clubs, sometimes hit the news pages.

It gives the mob something to giggle about and it's a game anybody can play. Authors have fought directors over the inflection of a line of prose, columnists have drawn swords over the exclusive rights to the pronoun "I," comedians have battled over gags older than their granddaddies, and chorines have shed tears and pulled hair over the affections of a trombone player in the pit band.

Oh, yes, on Broadway you can fight about anything from a man to a dirty look, but most of the classic feuds have originated with the classic line: "That bum is stealing my stuff!"

There was the feud that climaxed that night half a decade ago when Phil Harris made his bow at the Pennsylvania Roof. It was quite a gathering: Norma Shearer with Irving Thalberg, Buddy Rogers with Claire Windsor, Jeanette MacDonald with Bob Ritchie, Wiley Post and Clarence Chamberlain with the Paul Whitemans. And Harry Richman alone at a table for two.

When the curly-haired darling of the Hollywood set stepped out to sing his first song, Richman Moved his chair. Moved it so that he was sitting with his back to the singer.

You see, Phil had curly hair like Harry's. That was imitation sin No. 1. And then, he had a habit of emphasizing a word by throwing out his right fist in a short jolt, like a prize-fighter. That was imitation sin No. 2.

And so Harry turned his back, publicly, on Harris. Of course, he had to dress up in his nicest dinner jacket and pay a five-dollar cover charge to do it—but those are just picketing expenses in a good Broadway feud.

Bert Lahr had made his escape from burleycue ironclad by his performance in "Flying High," and he was riding high and handsome until Joe E. Brown burst into his life via the films with the same facial contortions and wah-h-h-h cry that Bert felt were his babies. Another Bert, little Bert Wheeler, poo-pooh'd Lahr's complaints. "Brown ain't got your wistfulness," he consoled.

One day Lahr called Wheeler and said, "You're with me tonight at a pitcher show, dahrling!" And there on the screen was Joe E. Brown doing Wheeler's pet monologue—"The Yiloo Mousie."

Lahr arose, grinning, patted the aghast Wheeler on the shoulder, and said: "Don't worry, mousie—he ain't got your wistfulness!"

Gilda Grey has always cherished the fact that she orginated the shimmy. Dorothy Parker observed that this was as important as inventing the hare lip—but that has nothing to do with this paragraph.

The old Graphic once ran a feature story on Bea Jackson, the girl who invented another dance—the Charleston. And in the story was a line crediting her also with introducing the shimmy.

Well, about midnight in walked Gilda Gray. She asked for the city editor and immediately demanded a retraction.

The city editor asked her what was the difference between the two dances.

Gilda quickly shuffled off a quick demonstration of the Charleston.

"And how does the shimmy go?" asked the ed., innocently.

"Listen," said Gilda. "The last time I shimmied on a stage I got $20,000 a week—in Providence. You won't get any shimmy from me!"

But there were no girlie yarns for that night so the city ed. just used his imagination on the shimmy, and Gilda got her retraction with plenty of art.

DAMAGE AT FIRE TOTALS MILLION

Crowd Breaks Police Line as Blaze Sweeps Lumber Yard In Philadelphia.

(By International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA — Striking with explosive suddenness, a five-alarm fire of undetermined origin today roared through the huge Joseph H. Sykes lumber yard, damaged more than a score of surrounding dwellings and small machine shops and caused a total loss estimated at more than $1,000,000.

During the height of the blaze, which cast a red glow high into the sky, a crowd of 10,000 broke through police lines and hampered firemen, 18 of whom were injured, none seriously. Many of the injured were treated at the scene by hospital emergency crews and returned to their posts.

Destroyed along with thousands of square feet of lumber being made ready for distribution in defense housing work, were a row of frame buildings in the millwork plant of C. C. Coolbaugh and Sons and a shed of the Robinson Clay Products company, Clay pipe makers.

Among other damaged structures was the two-story corrugated iron building of the King Bedding company, and two buildings owned by the Belfield Valve company.

STATE FAIR OPENED AT DAWN BY GATE UNLOCKING CEREMONY

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohio's $25,000,000, 91st annual state fair opened with the crack of dawn today.

The 5 a. m. gate unlocking ceremonies were a bit early for some of the 125 uniformed girl ticket-takers but for hundreds of employes and exhibitors on the 150-acre grounds it didn't matter—many of them had been up most of the night getting the week-long show ready for the curtain-raising.

Hundreds of children arriving in school buses were admitted free and patrons paying only 25 cents, half the regular admission price, were expected to outnumber last year's opening day total of 22,157 by nightfall.

Although the horseshow doesn't open until tomorrow and the harness racing and livestock judging until Monday, there were plenty of attractions and amusements for everyone to get an eyeful.

A continuous program of Ohio films shown by the state department of education in the free theater; band concerts and musical entertainment; more than a score of rides in the midway; the initial showing of "By Dawn's Early Night," a musical cavalcade by 300 persons on a revolving stage, and the state championship square dance contest in the coliseum at night were a few of the attractions in addition to a record total of exhibits.

There was one family that didn't worry about the cost of admission or where to park the car. It was Mr. and Mrs. Frank Engles and their three children of Millersburg, adjudged the typical Ohio farm family in a contest and ensconced in a model "farmstead" for the duration of the fair.

Religious services in the coliseum's at 10 a. m. will open tomorrow's program.

4 CARS CRASH

But Drivers Escape In Auto Collision at Intersection.

Four cars were damaged, but the drivers escaped injury, last night in a collision at the intersection of North Main and Fifth streets.

Mansfield police reported that autos driven by John W. Clift, 214½ East Second street, and W. P. Hinckley, Lucas, R. D. 1, collided while Hinckley was pulling away from a parking space.

The collision threw Hinckley's auto against two other parked cars owned by John J. Ramsey, 158 Lexingston avenue, and K. S. Weaver, Ashland, R. D. 5.

Clift's and Weaver's automobiles were badly damaged and had to be towed away to garages for repairs. All drivers were covered by insurance.

WOMAN RELEASED

WICKLIFFE — (INS) — Wickliffe authorities today released a St. Joseph, Mo., woman motorist after questioning her in the death of Nick Reniro, 73, of Wickliffe. Deniro was killed when the woman's auto struck him.

APPROPRIATION OF LAND SOUGHT

Phone Company Brings Action To Build Line.

The Mansfield Telephone company had filed a suit in common pleas court today to appropriate a right-of-way across the farm of Dudley Donough between Butler and Bellville.

The action is the outgrowth of an alternative mandamus handed down several weeks ago by Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston, ordering the company to start appropriation proceedings or refrain from building a line across the property.

The original court action was started after the telephone firm and Donough were unable to reach an agreement over a right-of-way 12 feet wide for a new line.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR PAYMENTS

Unless payments for garbage collections are speeded up, nearly two-thirds of the residents now served by the city garbage department will have to haul their own refuse after Aug. 31.

Fred C. Lingafelter, secretary of the garbage, water and sewage departments, announced today that only $3,664.15 of the $9,900 to be collected for service during the next three months has been paid.

Final date for payment is Monday. Following that date, Lingafelter will prepare a list of delinquents so the names may be dropped from the city's collection routes.

POLL INDICATES O.K. ON CURFEW

Cleveland Retailers Reported Favoring Cut In Gas Sales.

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Overwhelming approval of a 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. gasoline curfew for Cleveland dealers was indicated today as a result of a poll conducted by the Cleveland Association of Petroleum Retailers.

Otto J. Hlad, president of the organization, said that returns from 1000 ballots sent out showed 548 favored the plan with 20 against it. Complete returns are not in, Hlad reported. He also said a survey in the rest of northern Ohio brought 90 per cent approval, and that a similar poll taken in Youngstown showed 80 per cent approval.

FACES CHARGE

Detroit Negro Will Be Tried On Murder Count at Toledo.

TOLEDO —(U.P.)— Thomas Williams, 36, Detroit negro, will face a three-judge court next Wednesday on a charge of first degree murder for the slayings of Sam Arnovitz, 57, and Herman Kander, 26, in Toledo on Aug. 1.

Williams, a paroled convict from Ohio penitentiary, pleaded guilty yesterday to a lesser charge of unlawful homicide but will be tried on the murder indictment.

Car Washer, Held As Spy, Termed Highly Dangerous

NEW YORK—(INS)—Euke Hard Dierken, 35-year-old German-born car washer today was held for the grand jury following his arrest and arraignment on a complaint charging him with failure to register as a foreign agent.

FBI officials and Assistant U. S. Attorney James D. Saver termed Dierken "one of the most dangerous German spies rounded up in the country." Dierken, if convicted, could receive a maximum 10-year federal prison sentence for failure to register as a German agent.

Upon arraignment yesterday, he pleaded not guilty before United States Commissioner Edward E. Fay in Brooklyn, and bail was set at $10,000. Government officials said Dierken gathered information regarding shipping routes and departures.

LENINGRAD TOLD TO DIG IN AS FOE APPROACHES

Defenders of City Reported Under Heavy Pressure From Three Sides.

reported the Nazi capture of the Dnieper river city of Cherkasi, 90 miles southeast of Kiev, and an island in the river at that place.

DNB said the battle for possession of Russia's few remaining bridgeheads on the Dnieper was being pressed in full fury.

Around Leningrad, one of the mightiest struggles of the war was raging.

While stemming twin German drives from the south and southwest, the Russians faced a greater immediate danger from Nazi-allied Finnish columns striking down the Karelian isthmus from the north.

The Finnish high command said Finnish troops had reached points within 50 miles of Leningrad after smashing five Soviet divisions and cracking defenses set up by the Russians on the former Finnish Mannerheim line.

South and west of the city, the nearest German forces were reported in the vicinity of Kingisepp, 75 miles away, and in the Novgorod sector, 100 miles distant.

In the fortified metropolis itself, a vast people's army manned street barricades, ready for a death-stand in the event of a sudden break through the outer perimeter of defenses.

German military dispatches said waves of Stuka dive-bombers were blasting Soviet airdromes on the outskirts of Leningrad and heavily bombing vital rail lines east of the city. A total of 35 Soviet planes was reported destroyed on the ground and 16 in air fights.

In a summary of the two-month-old conflict, the Russians declared that twice already Adolf Hitler's plans for a blitzkrieg campaign had been shattered by the fierce stand of the Red armies.

As the Germans faced the likelihood of a long winter campaign, Nazi military authorities in Paris took stern measures to crush a rising tide of bitterness and hatred among the conquered French.

Putting the lives of thousands of Frenchmen in pawn, the Germans decreed death for any new violence following the assassination of a German colonel, stabbed in a Paris subway.

On the Russo-German war front, details were lacking on the bloody battle of the Ukraine, where German siege forces apparently were still battering at the Black sea port of Odessa and other Nazi armies were seeking to cross the Dnieper river.

The Russians for the first time gave casualty figures on the German raids on Moscow. Twenty-four raids, they reported, killed 736 persons and injured 3,515.

A Soviet summary of the first two months of fighting declared Nazi losses aggregated more than 2,000,000 killed, wounded and captured. The Russians said the Red army had lost 700,000.

Unofficial German sources estimated the Red army's total losses is dead, wounded and captured as at least 5,050,000.

The Mexican government ordered 15 German consulates throughout Mexico closed by September 1 and called home all Mexican consuls from German-occupied countries of Europe.

The order was based on what Mexico regarded as an unfriendly act by Germany in ordering Mexican consular representatives withdrawn from Paris and six other cities.

Italians Reveal Coast Occupation

ROME—(U.P.)—The official news agency Stefani issued a communique dated Zagreb, Croatia, today that the Italian government had found it necessary to place the entire Croatian coast from Fiume to Montenegro under Italian military occupation.

(Stockholm dispatches two days ago reported that Italian forces occupying Croatia were meeting resistance. The report was said to have come from Berlin, where it was admitted that Italy had been negotiating to extend her garrison area in Croatia.

(Other reports recently have said that Croatia was gripped by guerrilla warfare. It was reported that Ante Pavelich, head of the Croat government, had warned Benito Mussolini that the Duke of Spoleto, designated King Aimone I of Croatia, should not attempt to enter the country.)

Death Invades Peaceful California Yard

A policeman bends down over the bodies of George Ishii, 38-year-old nurseryman, and his wife, Elsi, in the backyard of their Culver City, Cal., home, shortly after they were killed when an auto crashed through a fence and crushed them against a porch. Mrs. Etta Zadeck, 56, who was learning to drive, lost control of the car which suddenly plunged into the Ishii yard, police said.

under medical care.

"I just prayed for that money last night," said Seith, "and now I know that prayers are answered."

"There will be plenty of time to think what I'll do with the money," after we find out about Shirley," said the father.

Seith could hardly wait to reach his home after work so that he could tell his wife and four children about the good fortune.

But the news had preceded him. Grattan Johnson, manager of the Madison theater, had already informed the family.

"We could hardly get to bed we were so excited," said Seith. The children keep asking for new toys and wagons. Well, I guess they could stand some. It's been a long time since they had any."

The children in addition to Shirley are Jean 11, Robert, 9, and Paul, 4.

The winner of yesterday's "bank night" had registered at the Majestic in the afternoon before going to work. He had registered every week that he could for the past two years and had only recently taken out three insurance policies on which he paid 20 cents each weekly.

The policies protected him against losing the bank night fund in the event his name was called and he was not in the theater. They also each paid off $1,300.

PREPARE TO SIGN CONTRACT

Truckers' Union, Employers To Meet Wednesday to Complete Pact.

Representatives of 16 employer companies and the Truck Drivers local 40, AFL, today planned to sign a new contract involving approximately 325 union employes.

Agreement on terms of the new two-year contract was reached Thursday following a deadlock of representatives over terms of the new agreement to supplant a contract which expired Aug. 15. Union representatives threatened to strike the truckers unless wage increases were granted.

Martin W. Brunner, secretary-treasurer of Pioneer Storage, chairman of the employers' representatives, said today that the contract would be signed at a committee meeting Wednesday.

The new contract calls for increases of seven and one half cents hourly for dockmen, while drivers gained a ten-cent hourly increase, according to the new terms, Brunner said.

The employers committee further agreed that employes receiving higher wages than rates set up by the new agreement would not suffer a reduction in their hourly wage scale, Brunner stated.

Union representatives agreed to give up demands fo vacations with pay, double time pay on Sunday and holidays and a shorter work week, according to Brunner.

The work week for drivers remains at 60 hours, dockmen 54 hours.

combat group but a unit to aid civil authorities in times of emergency.

The fifty guardsmen and their three officers have all received typhoid immunization "shots" to protect them from contracting disease.

Governor John Bricker reviewed the 800 officers and enlisted men of state guard units as they completed their week of training yesterday.

The governor said their progress in drill formations was "miraculous" after he and Adjutant General Whitter S. Bird, commander of the guard, reviewed the troops.

Colonel Sam Richmond, of Cincinnati, in command of the encampment this week, also expressed satisfaction with the formal review of his troops. Three battalions of the first infantry and four divisions of the state naval militia, under command of Edward Carsey, of Columbus, particiapted.

Three representatives in the legislature which created the state guard have been in the field with the new troops at Camp Perry this week.

William M. McCulloch, speaker of the house of representatives, is a second lieutenant in Company I of the first regiment from Piqua.

George B. Marshall, of Columbus, is a lieutenant in regimental headquarters of the state naval militia.

Cloyd V. Action, of Eaton, is first-class private in Company B, first regiment.

Craig D. Slagle, of Gallipolis, a fourth representative, is a lieutenant in Company B of the second regiment which will be in training next week.

production," either set of figures on other items such as 37-mm anti tank guns and 81-mm mortars showed "a dangerous delay in the production of very essential equipment.

Pointing out that the president did not challenge his figures on plane production, Byrd said that July production fell 200 short of the 1,656 schedule.

"Our production is far less than Germany's monthly combat plane production, in fact about one-third of the German monthly production as estimated by some government sources," Byrd said. "Fighting airplanes are the first line of defense of this country, and they are the most essential military equipment to be furnished Great Britain."

Declares GOP Obstructs Defense

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(U.P.)— Edward J. Flynn, national chairman of the Democratic National committee, charged today that Republicans in congress had obstructed the defense program and urged that they be replaced with "men who will help and not hinder our national administration in its efforts to preserve our traditional freedom."

Citing Republican votes on defense measures, Flynn added:

"And so we come to the conviction that it is both patriotic and political wisdom to devote our time and our efforts to the election of members of the president's own party in the congressional elections next year."

Flynn addressed the annual convention of the Young Democrats of America.

Flynn said two-third of the Republican senators voted against repeal of the arms embargo and that house Republicans voted seven to one against it. The vote on the lend-lease bill, he said, was about the same.

There will be no meeting of the Junior choir next week.

Study Hour To Be Held On Wednesday

One group will meet this week at the St. Paul Lutheran church. Members of the Missionary society will gather at the church Wednesday at 2 p. m. for the month's study hour. Mrs. Lewis Spellman will present the discussion, while Mrs. M. R. Perkeybile and Mrs. R. A. McBride will be the hostesses.

Sunday at 10 a. m. Rev. Martin W. Wappner, chaplain at the Ohio State reformatory, will give the last in a series of four sermons. Mrs. Joseph Kocsovsky and Miss Dorothy Blackstone will be in charge of the nursery period.

Lesson-Sermon Topic To Be 'Mind'

"Mind" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, tomorrow.

The golden text is: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him?" (1 Corinthians 2:16).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded . . . Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up" (James 4:8,10).

'How To Be Great,' Topic of Sermon

"How To Be Great" will be Rev. G. E. Swoyer's sermon topic tomorrow at the morning service at 9:45 a. m. in the First Lutheran church.

During the evening service, Rev. Swoyer will again deal with inferiority complexes. The topic for this meeting which will be at 7:30 p. m., will be "Why Feel Superior." The pastor will explain in what ways a feeling of self confidence is justified.

Luther league members will hold a pre-convention retreat at the Lutheran out-of-doors camp. They will meet at the church at 4:30 p. m. and bring their own "poke" lunches.

Association To Continue Meetings

The Richland county Gospel Tent association will continue its meeting until Aug. 31 this week. The services are held at Widder's grove a mile north of Franklin M. E. church in Weller township.

This week Janie Bradford of Washington, Pa., will lead the services with a quartet from Marion college, Ind., furnishing music.

Sunday Services At St. Mark's

Rev. C. A. Portz will speak on "When a Little Is More Than Much" at the 10 a. m. worship service of St. Mark's Lutheran church tomorrow. Dorothy Henry will sing the offertory solo.

A brief meeting of the congregation will be held immediately following the service on Sunday to act upon two proposed amendments to the church constitution.

SERVICE MAN'S CASE REVIEWED

Judge Advocate Studies 10-Year Pen Sentence of Private.

WASHINGTON—(INS)—War department officials reported today that the office of the judge advocate general now is studying the case of Private John Habinyak, who was convicted at Ft. Bragg, N. C., for insubordination and sentenced to ten years and nine months.

War department officials stated:

"That study is directed both to the legality of the proceedings and to the question whether recommendation should be made to the Secretary of War Stimson for clemency."

Habinyak, who was drafted in New York, was dishonorably discharged from the army on the five counts of insubordination to which he pleaded guilty at a court martial.

GENERAL STRIKE THREATENED IN DETROIT TIE-UP

CIO won, that union would be given the bargaining rights held by the A. F. of L. for 40 years.

Now in its fourth day, the strike is costing the city $63,000 a day in revenues.

Resume Talks on Shipyards Election

CLEVELAND—(INS)—A conference of CIO and AFL unions, American Ship Building company officials, and the National Labor Relations board was to be resumed today in the NLRB regional office here as the labor board attempted to persuade the two unions to agree to a consent election and prevent a threatened strike of 2,400 ship building workers.

The company petitioned the labor board for an election to determine which union had the majority among the employes.

A strike would involve ship yards in Cleveland, Lorain, Toledo, Buffalo, Superior, Wis., and south Chicago and would tie up $25,000,000 worth of navy orders for mine sweepers, anti-submarine net tenders and two ore tankers being constructed for the United States Steel company.

While several locals of the AFL Boilermakers, Ship Welders and Helpers union considered taking a strike vote, the CIO Industrial Union of Marine and Ship Building Workers claimed that a majority of ship yard workers belonged to the union.

Walkout Threatened At Airplane Plant

COLUMBUS —(AP)— An official of an independent union at the Curtiss-Wright corporation airplane factory here said today a mass walkout might be called Tuesday unless the labor board took "some action" toward certifying the Aircraft Independent Vertical labor union as bargaining agent for 2,500 employes.

Clarence O. Leach, president of the unaffiliated union, asserted the labor board was "playing a stalling game" in acting on the group's demand for an election at the plant. Requests for the ballot was filed July 25, Leach added.

Plans 'Phone Talks In Kearny Strike

HYDE PARK, N. Y. — (AP) — White House officials said today that President Roosevelt expected to confer by telephone during the day with representatives of both the company and union in his efforts to bring to a close a strike at the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock plant at Kearny, N. J.

Conferences are continuing, a presidential aide said, without any definite indication whether a settlement might be reached soon.

A CIO union has been on strike at the shipyard since August 7, and $493,000,000 of construction on naval and commercial vessels has been held up.

PLANT WRECKED

Refinery Division Shattered at Paulsboro, N. J.

PAULSBORO, N. J.—Five rapid explosions today shattered the high octane plant of the Socony-Vacuum Oil company refinery in Paulsboro where millions of gallons of top-grade gasoline are being manufactured for the nation's armed forces and shipment abroad.

Two men were injured seriously and several others were believed hurt. Company officials, however, declined to make known details of cause or extent of the blast which shook Paulsboro and the neighboring countryside for miles around.

Company guards posted at the gates of the fence-enclosed area refused admittance to hundreds attracted to the scene by the blasts. Plant firemen extinguished flames which followed the detonations, the first of which occurred at 5:45 a. m. and "woke up the whole town."

The second explosion was of gun-shot sharpness and intensity. It was followed by three muffled blasts, all of which occurred within a few seconds.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, AUGUST 23, 1941.

Drive carefully tomorrow—and be especially cautious on broad, straight highways.

Things are becoming even more confused in Berlin since the "R" in RAF bombings may mean either Royal or Russian.

Now that the Joe Louis and Alfred Vanderbilt marital troubles have been cleared up, society—in its varied elements—can resume the even tenor of its way.

Car Rails Needed for Defense

NO MATTER how lethargic city officials may have been heretofore in the matter of ridding Mansfield streets of old street car tracks, this attitude should undergo quick change since the magic word "defense" has been injected into the matter of scrapping abandoned street car and railroad tracks.

The weekly bulletin of defense agencies of OEM estimates that more than 232,000 tons of scrap iron are imbedded in city streets over the country and that this should be made available to steel industries urgently needing additional scrap iron and steel for defense production.

The bulletin also says that a plan is under consideration whereby WPA would aid in providing necessary funds for removing the rails and making repairs to streets.

OEM is also asking railroads to remove siding, branch lines and industrial tracks not actually needed for present or prospective business.

Appropriate action by public bodies is requested to facilitate the program—so why not get Mansfield's old car tracks out of the streets and into defense work before the snow flies?

Extending City Mail Delivery

WHEN the time comes that thought can be given to something other than preparations for war there should be no question about an appropriation sufficient to adequately enlarge Mansfield's postoffice and federal building—or erect a new one—whichever is finally decided upon.

It was several years ago that rather definite steps were taken in this direction, and property acquired to the east of the present postoffice—but plans were temporarily dropped as defense needs became more urgent.

Mansfield's expansion to the point of requiring ten additional letter carriers to make mail deliveries, coupled with increasing requirement for postoffice space, emphasizes the actual need for an enlarged, or new, federal building—but this is another of the things that will probably have to be deferred until "after the final destruction of Nazi tyranny."

Patriotism and Self-Interest

A NEWSPAPER columnist remarks, in connection with the failure of early gasoline conservation measures in the East, "It is apparent that we are in no mood for sacrifice. Anyhow, not for small sacrifices."

It seems easier to make a big sacrifice than a little one. The former carries with it a sense of power and courage. The latter is only annoying.

There seems to be a similar division in the degrees of patriotism visible to the naked eye today. Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, commander of the 37th Division, is indignant at the patriots who put out flags when the soldiers come to town—but also jack up restaurant and other prices as fast as possible. In one community recently, he tells of picking up menus on which the prices obviously had been hastily altered. Some of them had been jumped 33 per cent.

Pettiness, greed, thoughtlessness and thriftlessness are indulgences some Americans are prone to persist in, even in the face of national peril.

Modern Weapons for Soldiers

A SEMI-AUTOMATIC CARBINE is about to displace the 45-caliber automatic pistol formerly used by the army. The new gun can be used for offense as well as defense, while the pistol was a weapon of defense only. The carbine is only three feet long and weighs but five pounds. It can be used not only by the infantry, but also by cavalry, artillery, engineers, armored corps, parachute troops and other branches. All infantry officers below the rank of major, all non-commissioned officers and most of the enlisted men will carry it.

The carbine will be of 30 caliber, with a bullet similar to that of the 38 but with more striking power. Its firing range is effective up to 300 yards, while that of the pistol was only 50 yards. Six out of eight men of a machine gun squad will carry these weapons. If the machine is wrecked, offensive action may go on with the carbines.

Plainly, effort is being made to keep army equipment up to date. And it is becoming evident that when the free peoples really put their concentrated attention on the unpleasant but sometimes necessary task of destruction, they can beat the totalitarian nations at their own game.

Winged Power and Speed

EVEN WAR has its merits, and two great things at least have come out of it so far. One is the proof of what the human spirit can and will endure for the sake of liberty and civilization. The other is a material thing, the remarkable development of the airplane.

The latter has come so rapidly, under the stress of demands for aerial offense and defense, that civilians seem hardly to realize what is going on. The Age of Flight is here, with its great, multi-motored planes carrying deadly weapons or delicate human bodies so far above the earth that, huge as these birds are, they are invisible to the naked eye.

It is interesting to contemplate the vast amount of power and speed that can be put to peace time uses when the war ends.

Some Americans are hard to please. They cry for leadership and when they get it they complain that the leader hasn't followed their advice.

Some jobs are more difficult than others—as, for instance, a weekly publication, printed three weeks in advance, trying to keep up on war news.

Nothing much has been heard recently about Hitler's astrologers—and maybe the German junkers have taken over the job.

There's said to be a growing scarcity of soap in Italy—but what's the difference, as long as Mussolini is about washed up.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—James Montgomery Flagg treats the warm weather calmly. . . . His wiry, bristly grey hair is innocent of a hat. . . . He wears rumpled gaberdines with no tie, and his collar is on the outside of his coat.

Flagg is six-feet-two and owns the bushiest eyebrows in New York. The wrinkles at the corners of his eyes are laugh wrinkles. He likes Roosevelt and the radio but hates athletics. "The word baseball makes me shudder," he recently said to Vesta Kelling during an interview. "I like neither the game, the dust, the yelling, the pop bottles, the peanut shells, nor the shirt sleeves. I must be a snob."

One of these days some motion picture producer is going to have Oliver Gramling's book, "AP—The Story of News," crammed down his throat; then he will receive credit for being an astute showman and grabbing a "natural" while his rivals weren't looking. Had Noel Coward written it (which he couldn't have, even had he wanted to) it would already be hailed as another Cavalcade. It is exactly what its title says it is—the story of news. If you like newspapers, you ought to read it. Presently Oscar Serlin is going to produce it on Broadway. There's a plum in it for the man who takes it to Hollywood.

THE seals in Rockefeller Center should be viewed from all angles. Yesterday I happened to be in the offices of the American Spirits company, high in the RCA building. Peter Siskin said, "Poke your head out the window and look at the seals." . . . I did. . . . From that distance, they seemed to be something thought up by Salvador Dali. . . . They were flat as pancakes, utterly without depth. . . . They swam and frolicked like apparitions out of a Walt Disney film.

While there I was introduced to a famous old character of the New York bar—Judge Warren Foster, whom Herbert Asbury mentions so favorably in his book "The Gangs of New York." The judge likes to talk of Mark Twain, whom he knew, and also of Ben Butler, who won questionable fame as "Beast" Butler, military dictator of New Orleans during the Civil war and who was charged with stealing all the silver spoons in that southern metropolis. "That wasn't true," the judge declared. "Ben Butler was greatly maligned."

The judge also had an interesting explanation of the word "stateroom" as we know it today. Accommodations aboard ship are universally known as "cabins." In New Orleans there was one captain who had two especially fine cabins on his ship. One of these he named Louisiana and the other Mississippi. It was his custom to give these to distinguished guests. . . . If you were important you got one of the "State" rooms. . . . That's how the word stateroom came into common use.

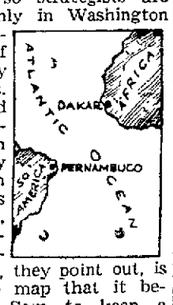
Why Watch Is Kept on Dakar

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

ALTHOUGH Dakar isn't in Latin America, it's about as important to the western hemisphere as if it were on our side of the Atlantic, so strategists are saying, not only in Washington but in the capitals of most of our southerly neighbors. Diplomats and visiting military men, in this country from the Latin new world's direction, stress the situation emphatically. Dakar, they point out, is a spot on the map that it behooves Uncle Sam to keep a sharp eye on, with a view to his own good, and to their own republic's good also—the latter consideration perhaps being what they have in mind principally.



Well, Uncle Samuel has his binoculars turned Dakarward, all right. Presumably it was one of the places President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill discussed at their recent ocean conferences.

I don't think the average Yankee ever heard of Dakar until after the present war started, but the South American east coast knew all about it, because it's so near to that waterfront. Today we North Americans know about it, too; it's figured so much, at least by name, in the news lately.

However, maybe a few words concerning it wouldn't be malapropos, for the benefit of the few readers who, possibly, haven't bothered to locate it on their atlases.

It's a port on French colonial soil in Africa, just where the Dark Continent bulges farthest to the westward into the Atlantic. In the western hemisphere and considerably south, the South American continent bulges to the eastward. At its extreme bulge is the Brazilian port of Pernambuco, likewise called Recife.

It's a comparatively short diagonal hop from Dakar to Pernambuco—about as far as from New York to Omaha.

By Plane and Parachute.

Now, it's no news that the Nazis want to horn into Latin America. Not having much sea strength, they need a narrow stretch of ocean to cross, to land 'em there. Dakar-Pernambuso is IT. It could even be done by plane and parachute. And if Herr Hitler gets the French navy, he might be able to make himself pretty troublesome on the watery surface of the bottleneck. True, we and the British have navies of our own, but they're tolerably busy elsewhere.

Adolf's few submarines and raiders, French fleet, parachutists and all, unquestionably couldn't put over a large scale invasion of South America at the present writing.

The Fuehrer's evident scheme, though, is to precede his SMALL-scale invasion by stirring up an epidemic of Latin-American revolutions, getting Quisling governments into power to welcome his parachutists. The existing Latin-American governments naturally don't fancy being revoluted into the discard. Uncle Sam's delighted to observe that they're taking drastic steps to prevent it. We've had SOME Latin-American friends all along, but predominently I don't think the southern folk have overly liked us. Furthermore, I don't blame 'em. Many's the time we've been very tactless with 'em in the past. But apparently they think we're preferable to what Herr Hitler would be; they want HIM headed off.

And Dakar's the springboard he's likelist to bounce at 'em from.

That has been recognized from the first, but today it's a more acute consideration than ever, because of Vichy France's complete acquiesence in his program—and Dakar is Vichy France's. Maybe Adolf will get the Vichy fleet, too, making it all the worse.

Have You Hatched?

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

GARDEN WALKS are exciting affairs these days. Eggshell fragments scattered like confetti, far and wide, wherever you walk. Evidence that some small robin or wren, towhee, chickadee, finch or flicker has managed to get himself hatched and taken to the wing. Any morning, at dawn, you can have a front seat at some premier—whole families being launched from a birch top or around the lily pool. And if you think hatching isn't Serious Business, you've a lot to learn. For Baby Birds keep their appointments with old Mom Nature, or else!

Rambling through the woods, taking my sunrise survey of bird tenants, I'm moved to pity. And considerable cussing. What a pity we humans can't display as much spunk and sense in our domestic affairs! And how much happier our lives would be if, having developed our pin feathers, we'd go when the going was good!

Consider the case of young Samuel Sparrow . . . only son of the proud and doting Pee Wee Sparrows, Jr. He received the best possible human service . . . went to the finest schools . . . enjoyed the training of Crack Instructors all along the line. Only trouble was:

WHEN IT CAME TIME TO HATCH, SAMMIE DIDN'T HOP OFF . . . HE JUST KEPT HANGIN' AROUND.

Naturally, the Folks didn't put it just that way. They said Sammie was sensitive . . . with a little touch of sinus. Or maybe acid indigestion. He takes after his father that way—the Sparrows always did have weak stomachs. So there was no use Pushing Him. He'd have to take time to Find Himself . . . look around for a while . . . get his bearings.

That was sixteen years ago. Sammie is still trying to Find Himself . . . looking around. And, as far as the neighbors can see, he's still as far from getting his bearings as he was the day he was graduated. If not farther.

For, when Sammie was graduated, he was fairly well equipped for the long flight ahead. He had a normal amount of courage and imagination, pride and initiative. And if he'd been a young woodpecker instead of an ordinary young human, he would, undoubtedly, have gotten off to a good start. But Momma and Poppa cramped his style from the take-off. They were worried and fussed . . . afraid he wouldn't get a fair deal . . . anxious to avoid every risk. And, in no time at all, Sammie was as fussed as they were.

If Sammie had actually been a bird, he would have awakened some fine morning with Pop yanking his tail feathers and Mom cheeping directions fromt he next branch. And, before he really knew what happened, Sammie would have been off and away—a full-fledged citizen of Birdland. But, as things now stand, he'll probably be hanging around the old nest until they start a Feathered Housing Bureau.

And the same goes for pretty Lilyun Lark. Lilyun was as sweet a lass as ever adorned a meadow. But Lilyun had a Mama. A Mama who simply Couldn't Give Her Up. For Mama had been widowed ere Lilyun barely chipped the egg. And remained, thenceforth, a gallant widow who Lived But For Her Little Girl. Had Lilyun, like Sammie, been an actual bird, she'd have had her day . . . spread her wings and been far away when Hatching Morn arrived. But Lilyun, alas, was a human lass—and didn't get a break.

Everywhere you'll meet them . . . Lilyun, Sammie and their tragic tribe . . . the folks who never get hatched. The bewildered boys and frustrated femmes who never manage to leave the nest. Years after they are men and women by the calendar, you'll see bits of the shell hanging on . . . cramping the wing spread they might have had.

Mennonites to Migrate?

It is revealed by Uncle Sam's passport officials that the Mennonites of Pennsylvania are sending a representative to South America with a view to possible transmigration. If carried out, it will be the second within a year. A large number of Pennsylvania Amish already have foresaken the acres they tilled to take up homes elsewhere.

The Mennonites want to accept an offer by Paraguay, where they would not be subject to U. S. crop restrictions nor have their conscientious war objectors put in camps. Furthermore, in Paraguay, they are promised their own school. Up here, their little boxlike structures have been under regular state rules governing education, and this has proved irritating.

If the Mennonites leave, this country will lose some of its best farmers. It is a peculiar fact that both Mennonites and Amish seem more generally successful with old mother nature than their colleagues who look to other forms of faith.—Ohio State Journal.

Daily Bible Thought

For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever.—1 John 2:16, 17.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Soldier-Morale Causes Concern, Campaign to Emphasize Dangers

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

GUARDEDLY, army officers admitted during the week that morale was none too high among America's soldiers. They blamed the situation on the prolonged and bitter debate over the service extension bill and said that now the bill was passed problems of morale would be dissipated.

Angry critics would not let them off with so simple an explanation.

Billy Rose, famed salesman of fun who has been staging shows at army camps, said army morale officers "don't know too much about morale, entertainment and how to whip up a little gayety." As an example he said army theaters are painted a "drab, depressing prison gray."

Equity, the actors' union, said through its magazine that it had tried without success for a year to get the war and navy departments to "sit down and work out a policy for entertainment. . . ."

To all this Major General Ellard Walsh snorted: "There has been entirely too much pampering of troops. Although well meant, the army recreational program is 'way over-emphasized; what we need is more poker games."

Another critic, Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, said soldiers were being inadequately trained and said that German private soldiers have "vastly more instruction" than our soldiers.

As concrete steps to improve morale, military authorities undertook such moves as these:

1. They launched a campaign to convince any doubting soldiers of the dangers confronting America which require an extension of service, and to show the men just what they are being trained to defend.

In an unusual broadcast to the army, Secretary of War Stimson told the men they were being trained to fight "on any of the many and varied terrains which surround our country from which an attack may come." In this connection he emphasized Alaska and Latin America. "We have not been planning any expeditionary force for the benefit of other nations," he said.

2. To improve the quality of the soldiers' leaders, the army disclosed it has undertaken a sweeping shakeup of officers to weed out those who are too old or otherwise unfit for training troops and active field duty. It said hundreds might be affected.

3. The war department announced that unless the international situation interferes, many selectees and national guardsmen will be sent home after as little as 14 months' service. Military sources, in announcing that almost 200,000 troops will be released before Christmas, were frank in saying the move should "lift" morale.

4. A civilian and social scientist, Frederick H. Osborn of New York city, was named chief of army morale with the rank of brigadier general to replace Brig. Gen. James Ulio.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

"Throwing Up The Sponge."

Throwing up the sponge need not be a bloody affair; but that is how it started.

Connoting defeat, this figure of speech is an allusion to what is more euphemistically called the manly art, less elegantly termed prize fighting.

In this so-called "sport" it was the practice to use a sopping sponge to wipe up the blood as it gushed from the gory maulers.

When one of the participants was no longer able or willing to continue, his handlers would throw the sponge into the ring, thus serving notice on the other side that they had abandoned the contest and acknowledged that their man was vanquished.

One-Minute Test.

1. What are love birds?
2. Do people who live on farms have more or less children than folk who live in cities?
3. What was the name of the old-time actor who was particularly known for his interpretation of the character "Rip Van Winkle"?

Words of Wisdom.

Whatever weighs in the eternal scale of equity and mercy tips the beam on the right side, where the immortal words and deeds of men alone can settle all questions amicably and satisfactorily. —Mary Baker Eddy.

Hints on Etiquette.

In writing a letter of thanks for entertainment, such as dinner and concert, etc., don't be too effusive. Simple and sincere thanks are much better than gush.

One-Minute Test Answers.

1. Diminutive parrots which are particularly affectionate to each other, both in a wild and caged state.
2. More.

Red Man's Burden.

Wisconsin's florid-faced Gov. Julius P. Heil, persistent proclaimer of the Brotherhood of Man, took it upon himself to confer upon an Indian honorary membership in the White race. The Indian, Chief Yellow Thunder of the Winnebago tribe, was called the first Indian to be so honored.

Apparently suppressing a smile, Yellow Thunder responded with: "I am aware of a great new life ahead of me. I must give up the simplicity of the American Indian life for worries about my neighbors' affairs."

Abroad

Pressure on Leningrad.

In Nikolaev the Germans claimed to have captured eight ships under construction—a 35,000-ton battleship, a 10-000-ton cruiser, four destroyers and two submarines.

The Russians said they had applied the scorched earth policy to Nikolaev and had razed dockyards.

Berlin reported Odessa was a smoking ruin.

To the north, on the Leningrad front, the Russians admitted falling back to Novgorod, a 50-mile advance for the Germany army. Marshal Voroshilov called on Leningrad's residents to fight to the last to protect "our beautiful city."

Germans claimed great victories on the central front near Gomel; but Russians said their men were creating havoc among Germans in the central sector by dropping air-borne tanks.

Rumblings In France.

Marcel Deat, one of France's most ardent whooper-uppers for collaboration with Germany, made a remarkable admission in an article in L'Oeuvre. He said workers—besought not to produce "for Germany"—have "brought about a state of affairs in French industry where the quality of work has gone down and productivity is low."

Sabotage against the railroad system of Occupied France became so widespread that a million-franc police reward was offered.

And so critical was rioting that the German commander in France, General von Stuelpnagel, proclaimed that the whole population of Occupied France and not merely the guilty would be held responsible for outbreaks attributed to Communists.

This was the widest application to date of the theory of total responsibility.

Thousands of Parisians were jailed.

Japan seemed worried by the reports that Russia had agreed to open a Siberian front against her if she became involved in a war with Britain or the U. S.

At Home

President Mum.

President Roosevelt was tanned, chipper and obviously happy when he returned from his tete-a-tete at sea with Winston Churchill.

His return did not end the surmise. As one newsman put it, the president was as "mum as a poker player sitting in on a cut-throat game" when it came to disclosing any broad strategy worked out at the conference.

He denied that the conference put the nation any closer to entering war and offered the opinion that the war would continue through 1943 if necessary.

The president disclosed that he would ask billions more for the lease-lend program and that the delivery of planes to British forces in the Middle East would be speeded through a ferry system conducted by Pan American Airways.

He is the gas station attendant, the man who has been given the power to tell drivers in 16 eastern states and the District of Columbia how much gasoline they may have.

His new authority is under an order issued by the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply slashing deliveries of gasoline to service stations 10%. Commercial, agricultural, government-owned and emergency vehicles like fire engines and ambulances are exempt, so the supply available to pleasure cars it expected to be cut 20%.

Congress: At Ease.

After eight months of hard work and little play, the house is going through the formality of twice-weekly sessions, and the senate is clear of work until the finance committee reports on the tax bill. The house banking committee has recessed hearings on price control for at least a month.

Several witnesses urged the senate committee to reduce income tax exemptions. Senator Vandenberg (R. Mich.) told reporters there was "substantial support" for a sales tax in the committee if food, clothing and medicine were not taxed.

PARTICIPATE IN STATE FAIR

Ashlanders Take Active Part In 91st Exposition at Columbus Next Week.

ASHLAND — In addition to a number of Ashland countians attending the State Fair next Monday and Tuesday several are participating in the exposition.

On Monday, John Myers and Ruth Ann Gongwer, winners of the Ashland County 4 H club health contest, will compete in the state health contest.

Tuesday, Robert McConnell. 19. R. F. D. 3, will receive a Holstein calf as one of five first prize winners in a state-wide contest in which Ohio youths wrote essays about the merits of purebred dairy cattle.

The calves are to be presented to the winners by Gov. John W. Bricker. The prize-winning calves are purebred and have been registered in the names of the winners.

The contest was sponsored by the Ohio Farmer and five national purebred dairy breed associations, the Ohio contest being one of 12 in which the national dairy breed associations and agricultural publications participated to focus attention on importance of purebreds and their value in improving dairy herds of the country.

The five Ohio winners will compete with the five winners in each of the other 11 contests in the nation, with each of the five national winners to receive as an award a trip to the National Dairy Show at Memphis, Tenn., in October.

Typical Farm Family Day will be observed Tuesday, W. G. Singer family of Ashland attending the fair as Ashland county's most typical farm family. The Singer family were winners in a contest recently conducted by a Columbus newspaper in co-operation with the Ohio State Fair, the Grange of Ohio and the Ford dealers of Ohio.

The Singer family will be driven to Columbus and will be entertained at the fair with typical farm families from each of the other 87 counties in the state. They will receive personal greetings from Gov. Bricker.

CLOSE POOL

Swimming Basin at Ashland Closed For Season.

ASHLAND—The swimming pool at Brookside park was closed Friday by Frank B. Downs, operator at the request of the city health director.

Closing of the pool was requested due to the outbreak of infantile paralysis throughout the state, a large number of cases being traceable to persons who have been swimming, Downs said.

One case of infantile paralysis has been reported in Ashland. Charles Friend, 26, a resident of Columbus until several weeks ago, has contracted the disease and has been placed in a cast.

SON BORN

SHELBY—Mr. and Mrs. John Hollenbaugh are the parents of a son born Thursday at Memorial hospital.

THEATERS

New Hardy Story.

Andy Hardy starts out to be a captain of industry right after graduation from high school in Mickey Rooney's latest starring vehicle, "Life Begins For Andy Hardy," showing at the Ohio. He sets out for New York where his hopes are dampened and his opinions about cracking the big town are changed. Judy Garland makes her third appearance as a guest star with the Hardy family in the role of the girl who makes the business of getting Andy out of his scrapes a part time job. Lewis Stone, Patricia Dane, and Ann Rutherford are in the cast.

Turbulent Drama.

The beauty of the Ozark country has been captured by technicolor in "The Shepherd of the Hills," Harold Bell Wright's dramatic story of a hot-headed young mountaineer, showing as a single feature at the Madison. Out to kill the man whom he believed had wrecked his mother's life the boy waives romance with a pretty mountain girl until he can avenge the wrong. John Wayne and Betty Field play the romantic leads and Harry Carey appears as a stranger of the hills. James Barton of the stage production, "Tobacco Road," is featured, also Marjorie Main.

Powell Picture.

The amusing story of a man who gets into difficulties when he poses as insane in order to prevent his wife from obtaining a divorce is depicted in "Love Crazy," a hilarious comedy co-starring William Powell and Myrna Loy opening Sunday at the Ritz. On the heavier side of the bill is "Wagons Roll at Night," starring Humphrey Bogart with Sylvia Sidney.

Store Comedy.

Jean Arthur plays another of her worldly-wise heroines in "The Devil and Miss Jones," sparkling comedy drama opening Sunday at the Park. She is supported by Robert Cummings and Charles Coburn in a story dealing with life in a New York department store and the efforts of the employes to form a union. Coburn in the role of the employer unwittingly comes under her wing when he poses as a shoe clerk in his own establishment just to inform himself on store conditions. Spring Byington is also in the cast. Gene Autry's "Sunset In Wyoming," is the co-attraction.

Western Thriller.

"Wide Open Town," William Boyd's "Hopalong Cassidy" film showing at the Majestic deals with the popular westerner's efforts to rid the locale of criminals and restore stolen cattle to rightful owners. Evelyn Brent and Victor Jory play the sinister influence and the cast includes Roy Barcroft and Ed Cassidy. The story of a stranded dance band that enrolls in college is depicted in "Sweetheart of the Campus," the second picture, featuring Ozzie Nelson and Harriet Hilliard. Ruby Keeler and Frank Gaby are also cast.

The average life of a movie film is about 100 days of actual service.

Hardy Contest Closes Monday

Andy Hardy is in need of a job. The popular young hero of the Hardy Family pictures has just graduated from high school and has decided to work for a month as a means of helping him decide whether to keep on working or go to college. To help him out of the predicament The News-Journal is co-operating with the Ohio theater management in sponsoring a classified-ad writing contest in connection with the opening of Mickey Rooney's new production, "Life Begins For Andy Hardy," opening Saturday at the Ohio. Five dollars will be presented to the first prize winner and a pair of tickets for the Hardy feature will be awarded to second, third, and fourth prize winners respectively. Write Andy's ad and send it to the Andy Hardy Contest Editor at The News-Journal office by 6 p. m. Monday, August 25. Entries postmarked after that time will not be considered.

HELD TO JURY

ASHLAND—Milo McLaughlin of Cleveland was placed under $300 bond and bound over to the grand jury Friday by Justice J. H. Armstrong on a charge of non-support. McLaughlin was arrested in Cleveland and brought to Ashland by Sheriff O. D. Hammond.

METERS TAKE IN $187

ASHLAND—Collection of funds from Ashland's new parking meters Friday revealed a total of $187.87 collected by the meters during their first week of operation.

ART STUDY CLUB MEETS FOR ANNUAL PICNIC

Mrs. Boyd Wierman and Other Officers Installed During Brief Business Session at North Lake Park Pavilion Friday.

MRS. BOYD WIERMAN was installed as president of the Art Study club at their annual summer picnic held Friday noon at the North Lake park pavilion. Others who will assume their duties as officers for the coming year are Mrs. George Moore, vice president; Mrs. Harry Buchan, secretary, and Mrs. William Keefe, treasurer.

A covered-dish dinner was served at long tables decorated with bouquets of garden flowers. Twenty-eight members and two guests, Mrs. Pauline Lichty of Long Beach, Cal., and Mrs. Floyd Davis of Shiloh, were present.

Hostesses for the day were members of the program committee, Mrs. Harvey Lanehart, Miss Henrietta Frank and Mrs. George Moore. During the business session Miss Frank presented the club scrapbook which she and Mrs. Lanehart had compiled. The lovely book, which is composed of many famous pictures by outstanding artists and the historical background of the art, will be given to the Public library for their use.

Plans were discussed for the next meeting which will be held Oct. 3 at the home of Miss Lillian Dickson, 540 Stewart Lane. This will officially open their club season. There will be a display of small antiques by the members and the topic for the program will be "Antiques" with Mrs. Fred Dippman furnishing the paper.

CIRCLE MEETING.

Circle Two of the Park Avenue Baptist church held its regular meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Perry Bush, Marion aevnue. Nine members and two guests were in attendance. Luncheon was served during the afternoon. The time was then spent doing White Cross work for China. Mrs. W. K. Dise, South Main street, will entertain the circle at her home Sept. 26.

Mrs. Wade Speaks At Astowela Meeting

Mrs. N. E. Wade of Bellville was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Astowela Garden club Friday. Her topic concerned "Shrubs." Members were entertained at the Women's Club with Mrs. William Althouse and Mrs. Carl Wilisey as hostesses. Twenty-three were in attendance. At the noon hour a luncheon was served with Mrs. Howard Keene presiding.

Plans were made for a breakfast party to be held Sept. 5 at 10:30 o'clock at the Women's Club with Mrs. C. A. Hines and Mrs. A. L. Price as hostesses.

ALASKA FLOWERS.

Mrs. Clay Noel, Davis road, entertained 16 members of the Town and Country Garden club at her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Harry Longsdorf presided during the brief business session and Mrs. Walter Willis, horticultural chairman, spoke on recent discoveries. Mrs. Merritt Giles gave the interesting paper on "Flowers of Alaska" which was prepared by Mrs. Wilmot Peirce. The serving table was a patriotic display with a red, white and blue floral arrangement. Mrs. Millard Bredbeck presided at the luncheon table. The next meeting of the club will be held Sept. 5 at the home of Mrs. Paul Endriss, Ruth avenue.

LUNCHEON PARTY.

Linneaus Garden club members will meet Sept. 12 at the home of Mrs. Ray Hammer, 872 Dickson Parkway. Luncheon will be served at 1 p. m. The afternoon will be spent making bouquets for shutins.

Pairings Made For Westbrook Women Golfers

Golf pairings for Westbrook women for Tuesday have been arranged. Selected holes will be played with Miss Charlotte Feaman in charge. Prizes were won last week by Mrs. H. G. Balyeat, Mrs. H. R. Talmage and Miss Faye Sotherland.

FLOWER LEGENDS.

Mrs. Henry Huston spoke on "Garden and Flower Legends" at the meeting of the Johnny Appleseed Garden club Friday when the group convened at the home of Mrs. Roger Black, Marion avenue road. Nineteen were in attendance for the program and short business session. Luncheon was served at noon with summer bouquets decorating the serving table. Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mrs. Harold Bruce presided. The next meeting will be held Sept. 5 at the home of Mrs. Bruce, Davis road.

REGULAR MEET.

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Eagles lodge held their regular business meeting Friday evening at the Eagles hall. Miss Mary Hartman, president, conducted the business session. Door prize of the evening was presented to Mrs. Jeannette Smith. The next meeting will be held Sept. 5 at the Eagles hall.

USE SCISSORS

Scissors are handy for removing rinds from sliced ham or bacon. They can also be used for cutting bacon into small pieces to season foods. The scissors make more even pieces than a knife.

HURRY-UP DINNER

Try this hustle-up dish for dinner. Boil large onions until tender. Rinse in cold water and carefully scoop out the centers. Place in buttered shallow baking dish. Stuff onions with baked beans. Top with catsup or chili sauce and heat 10 minutes in a hot oven. Corn can be used in place of the beans.

Black Wool Dinner Gown

The drama of black for late summer is handsomely expressed in an informal dinner gown of sheerest black wool. Cluny lace borders the deep V neckline, the sleeves and the pleated skirts. Diamond and ruby clips are worn at the point of the V, bracelets and ring over the gloves, and for a final touch of elegance, an orchid is pinned to the tiny black hat. Gown by Philippa MacDonald.

Piano Recital Will Be Given By Mrs. Maxwell's Pupils

Piano pupils of Mrs. Marian Maxwell will present a recital Aug. 28 at 8 p. m. at the Middleburg Grange hall. The program is as follows: a solo, "In the Swing," by Eva Jean James; a six-hand selection, "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star," by Norma Jean Braddock, Lorraine Swatik and Doris Ann Phillips; piano solo, theme from "Liebestraum," adapted by John Thompson and played by Jane Maxwell and "March of the Toy Soldiers" a duet by Dorothy and Lenora Turner.

Evadine Ruhl will play the solo "Dutch Twins," and the duet "Toy Soldiers" will be presented by Eileen and Norma Jean Braddock. Other selections will be a solo, "Drowsy Moon" by Lenora Turner; a duet, "Sweet Souvenir" by Eva Jean James and Jane Maxwell; a six-hand selection, "Oh Dear! What Can the Matter Be" by Evadine Ruhl and Dorothy and Lenora Turner and the solo "Swaying Silver Branches," by Doris Ann Phillips.

"At the Circus," a duet, was presented by Norma Jean Braddock and Lorraine Swatik. Dorothy Turner played the solo "Twilight Lullaby." "Tulip Time," a duet, was presented by Evadine Ruhl and Jane Maxwell. Concluding numbers on the program were "Dreamy Time Song" by Lorraine Swatik; "Happy and Gay" by Doris Ann Phillips and Lorraine Swatik and "Forest Dawn" by Norma Jean Braddock. John Swatik will accompany the children.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Horseradish sauce makes good ham taste better. Mix ¼ teaspoon salt and 3 tablespoons of grated horseradish into ½ cup stiff whipped cream. Add a teaspoon of lemon juice and serve in a small dish.

For new food flavors: Put a little grated orange rind in chocolate cookies, loaf or layer cake. Use equal portions of almond, lemon and vanilla extracts in baked or boiled custards and a little candied ginger and broken nuts in baked apples.

Wrap cheese in waxed paper and store in the refrigerator. Inspect frequently and cut off any mold if it appears. To keep a large cheese, wrap it in waxed paper, then a cloth wrung out of vinegar, then another covering of waxed paper.

Try this new pickle combine: Cover cooked sliced beets and green string beans with leftover liquid from bottled pickles. Cover and chill several hours and you will have a delicious relish.

Flower Gardens Sponsored By Garden Group

Routine business was discussed at the meeting of the Mansfield Garden club Friday at the home of Mrs. William Weldon, Marion avenue. Mrs. Vincent Smith was the associate hostess. Twenty-five were present and talked of the club project, gardens made by children at the Richland County Children's Home. Flowers grown in those gardens were entered in the Richland County Fair held this week.

Each year the club members take the children to the fair and help them with floral arrangements for the exhibits. When luncheon was served at noon the table was centered with a crystal bowl filled with white gladioli. Mrs. George Draffan and Mrs. Carville Gorman poured.

The next meeting of the club will be held Sept. 5 with Mrs. Charles Schroer, Woodhill road, as hostess. Mrs. Jessie LaDow will be associate hostess.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Matthes, 328 Fair street, who celebrated their 44th wedding anniversary yesterday were honored with a surprise party by their friends at their home Friday evening. Hostesses for the party were Mrs. J. L. Matthes and Mrs. Christ Reining. Thirty-five guests were in attendance. Games and contests were diversions of the evening. Luncheon was served at the close of the evening buffet style from a long table decorated with garden flowers. The honored guests were presented with gifts by the guests.

HOROSCOPE

For Sunday, Aug. 24.

Sunday's horoscope holds promise of the sudden culmination of long worked for and cherished hopes and wishes. This may refer to the clergy or others faithful to their obligations. Their studies or some concentrated purpose may at long last find rewards and be graciously lifted into the public acclaim.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year of definite opportunity for advancing their fortunes and position by a solidification or reorganization of their interests and securities on firmer and more enduring foundations. Elders, superiors or others in influential positions may assist or counsel in this.

A child born on this day should have much stability and sterling character as well as some extraordinary talent securing it in public acclaim.

For Monday, Aug. 25.

Monday's astrological forecast may prove a fairly lively day in both business and private affairs, with public interests claiming the major attention. Social service, humanitarian and cultural activities should be to the fore with those in authority encouraging. But don't be carried away by excitement. Be calm and self-contained for success.

Those whose birthday it is may find their best success and satisfaction in public service, humanitarian, and charitable social welfare, although private life should be happy. In all associations subdue mental irritabilities and caustic remarks.

A child born on this day should be sharp of speech and thought, although at heart kindly, cordial and sympathetic. It will be moderately successful and devoted to public welfare.

FRANKFURTERS

A substantial soup, salad and dessert is ample for a luncheon or supper menu for springtime. Browned sliced frankfurters add nutrition to the soup. Slice frankfurters, brown in butter and add 6 slices per cup or bowl of black bean soup.

Here is a new spread for potato chips to serve with cocktails: Add some finely-chopped chives to liver paste or mashed cooked liver. Spread onto large fresh potato chips. Arrange in a shallow dish or tuck around appetizers on a tray.

COTTAGE GARDEN CLUB PLANS FLOWER SHOW

Mrs. Clarence Stuhldreher Will Be Guest Speaker at Annual Floral Exhibit and Program at Home of Mrs. P. M. Eliot.

MEMBERS of the Cottage Garden club are hoping for ideal weather for their next meeting which will be in the form of a flower show on Sept. 5 at the home of Mrs. P. M. Eliot, 40 Bartley avenue. Mrs. Clarence Stuhldreher will be the guest speaker. Plans for the annual exhibit were made yesterday when the group met at the home of Mrs. J. B. Conard, Andover road. Mrs. Ernest Larson was the associate hostess.

Eighteen were in attendance Friday afternoon and answered the roll call by speaking on "The Most Unusual Flower In My Garden." Mrs. H. D. Smith furnished the program, speaking on "Flower Arrangements, Do's and Don'ts." A brief business session was held and luncheon was served at 1 o'clock with the table decorated with many summer flowers in a dainty arrangement. The home was attractively decorated with varied types of flower arrangements prepared by the members.

GARDEN STUDY CLUB.

Mrs. H. D. Bishop, 218 Penn avenue, entertained members of the Garden Study club at her home Friday afternoon. During the afternoon a talk was given on "Making Your Garden Show Your Personality," by Mrs. Clarence Lisle. Mrs. R. R. Martin gave a short talk on "Bulb Planting." Bulbs and plants were exchanged by club members. Luncheon was served at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Ruth Orcutt will entertain the club at her home Sept. 12.

Miss Chidsey Honored At Dinner Party Friday

Honoring one of their business associates, Miss Georgiana Chidsey, employes of the office at the Lumberman's Mutual Insurance company, entertained for her at the Talbott hotel in Galion. Friday evening Twenty-one places were laid at a long table centered with a bouquet of summer flowers. Miss Marguerite Stone was general chairman of the affair.

The evening was spent socially and the diversions were contests and bingo. Many prizes were given. Miss Chidsey, who is retiring from her position Sept. 1 will leave sometime that month for Denver, Colo., for an indefinite stay. The group presented her with many gifts.

CHILL FRUITS

Fruits for salads have improved flavor if they are sprinkled lightly with tart French dressing and chilled before put into the salad. Be sure to drain off all juices from the chilled fruits before adding to the rest of the ingredients.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

My pulses stirred at this fresh confirmation of a belief held by so many citizens concerning the existence of subversive plots threading the fabric of our national life. I felt that if those threads are not pulled out and the fabric quickly mended, we would be in sorry case, indeed.

But I tried to make my voice calm and judicial as I answered Mary. She was keyed so high over her discovery that for her own mental equlibrium I wanted her brought down to earth again.

"If you can prove every angle of that, you will be one of the most important persons in the country," I told her. "The idea is nothing new, you know. It has been voiced many times before by patriotic citizens who have watched the alarming developments of the last few years. But proof, proof. proof! That is what is needed; what many able citizens are working hard to get."

Important Discovery.

"I know," Mary said despondently, and there was deflation in her voice which I hurried to remove. I might have known. I told myself scathingly, that any attempt to lessen Mary's enthusiasm sends her straight into the dumps.

"But I think your discovery is of paramount importance," I told her, "because it was an admission to you in confidence made by someone who evidently is a part of this great organization planning to take over the country. Were you able to get any concrete proof out of him—lists of associates, or of dates that things are planned, or of places where any acts of sabotage are to be staged?"

Mary Made Notes.

"He never showed me anything in writing," Mary answered. "But from time to time he would mention all those things—names of people, and places, and dates. The first time he did it, I wasn't prepared. But after that, I had some pieces of paper and a pencil in my purse, and I developed a great yen for drawing furtive sketches of people sitting at the tables.

"Then I started fixing up original cross-word puzzles — very primitive — about the different people and things in the restaurants, and Steve fell for it like that thousand of brick you hear so much about.

Kept Data In Code.

"But he didn't dream that I had fixed up a primitive code—just a equals 1, b equals 2, etc.—and that every time he mentioned a name of person or place, or a date, I just made heavier the numbers in the squares of the crossword puzzles. And did I charge my memory on those occasions! I never was in your class, Auntie Madge, but I got to be pretty good at remembering things, let me tell you,

"And then, when I got home, I'd take those crossword puzzles and decode the things to the best of my remembrance. Then I'd also write down Steve's conversation, as I remembered it. It's really quite a book—and I'm proud of it—although I don't know whether or not it will be any good to anybody."

Madge Delighted.

I was staring at her in pleased astonishment.

"Mary, child!" I exclaimed, "I haven't words with which to praise you. What a clever idea! And I am sure my father will be very anxious to see that book. Is it where you can show it to him?"

"Right with my night things," she said. "I always keep it locked up in the apartment, but I brought it over here a little while ago, thinking you might want to show it to Grandpa Spencer.

"You may be sure he'll want to see it," I said.

"Do you want to see it now?" she asked.

"It isn't what I want to do, but what I must," I answered. "Father commanded me to get some sleep before he should arrive. If I do not look out, he will be at the door before I even lie down.

"So I must wait to see your book until after Father arrives. But I must listen to just one more thing. You say you heard some one call Stephen 'Stepan'?"

"You're shouting I did," Mary replied, "and it's quite a yarn. But you must hear it."

CHAPTER XII

It seemed hours to Cherry before her brain began to function so that she could move or cry out to the girl standing poised to leap to her death ten floors below. Cherry's white face was a mask of horror.

Finally reason took the place of her fear and she found her voice to say as soothingly as possible:

"No, no you mustn't. Let—let's talk about it first. Wait—wait."

Slowly Cherry's trembling knees took her closer to the little coatless figure standing with her evening gown blowing wildly in the winter breeze. Cautiously, Cherry picked up the fur coat that had been thrown in a heap at the girl's feet. The girl watched her with wild unseeing eyes, and Cherry prayed that she would not turn and fall to the street below before she got her hand on her.

"Here," Cherry said, her teeth chattering, "let's put your coat around your shoulders. It's terribly cold. You—you'll catch an awful cold. Here, I'll help you."

Suddenly Cherry with all of her strength, flung the coat around the girl's shoulders and struggled to pull her from the railing. The dazed girl seemed to realize that Cherry was trying to keep her from carrying out her purpose and with a wild cry tried to fling Cherry from her.

But Cherry, with a strength born of fear, held on grimly, and soon the two girls were in a death grip, their screams riding the wind and reaching to the street below.

Officer Brannan, directing traffic on his beat a half block away looked up suddenly and saw the drama that was being unfolded on the terrace so high above his head. At first he thought his eyes were deceiving him. It must be two people dancing. But why, he asked himself would two fools be carrying on like that on the railing of a terrace? Nobody would get that drunk.

Forgetting traffic, Brannan ran toward the building, calling to a plain clothes man passing by to send for help.

After what seemed endless hours to Cherry, she had managed to pull the girl from the railing, and for several seconds they fought madly over the terrace floor. Cherry saw a small table with an iron vase on it out of the corner of her eyes and moved toward it, fighting as she went.

Suddenly, clinching her teeth, she dropped her arms from the panting, screaming girl and brought the vase down on her head. The girl fell heavily at her feet. Cherry staggered backward where she fainted, falling in a little heap in the doorway.

It was Lola who returned and found Cherry lying where she had fallen.

"Cherry!" she screamed, "What has happened? What's wrong?"

Lola stopped and shook Cherry frantically, but had the presence of mine to pull her inside and close the door. Then she ran to call for help. Lola found Si Winters at the front door with a breathless policeman.

"What's goin' on 'out on your terrace here," the officer demanded. Two women—fighting wild cats on the terrace railin'."

Lola understood what had happened to Cherry. Her hand went to her mouth in a gesture of fear. She turned to her dazed host:

"Ch—Cherry must have seen it. She—she's fainted. C—come quickly. I—I had gone back for my compact. I—"

"Cherry who?" the officer wanted to know. "Was she a witness?"

Lola shivered: "She must have been. We were on our way to the terrace. I had left my compact in the powder room. When I got back—Cherry was lying in the door."

The officer pushed Winters aside. "There's something funny goin' on here. Don't let anybody get away, Winters. You wait here."

Si walked stiffly to the bar and picked up a drink.

"Listen everybody," his voice shook when he had gulped the glass of brandy, "Something has happened. The police say no one can leave, I'm sorry."

Several girls screamed. Brett Hobart was at Si's elbow. Si said under his breath:

"You'd better go in to the master bedroom and see your girl friend. Two girls have been fighting on the terrace railing. She must have witnessed it. Lolo Hitchcock found her in a faint in the terrace door"

Brett said wildly: "Oh, Hell! I've got to get out of here, Si. If I get mixed up in this thing my old man will take away every cent I've got. I've been in enough trouble as it is."

Si gave him a withering look.

"You're going to run out and leave the kid in a spot like this? What kind of a heel are you? Aren't you engaged to her?"

"I am not," Brett denied, odwning his own drink. "She's a swell fellow to play around with, but that's all. You know what my old man thinks of models!"

"I know what I'd think of you if I were your old man," Si Winters turned on his heel and walked away.

By that time several other members of the police and detective forces had arrived, but a butler showed Brett Hobart a secret way out when he gave him fifty dollars.

Cherry opened her eyes to find a policeman bending over her. She looked up at him dazedly:

"Where am I?" she asked weakly.

"You fainted," said the officer. "Take it easy till you get your wits about you. You're all right."

Lola stood on the other side of the bed crying frantically into her wisp of a handkerchief. The maid was wringing cold towels and laying them on Cherry's head. Suddenly Cherry, with a stifled scream, tried to raise up.

"That girl!" she said wildly. "She tried to jump off the terrace. I remember now. Oh, God! I—I had to hit her over the head. She—she's out there now. Do—something."

"She's on her way to the hospital," said Brannan. "What were you trying to do, murder her? What were you two dames fightin' about?"

Cherry moaned and fell back, almost losing consciousness again. Lola cried:

"She never saw Patsy Lloyd in her life before. She couldn't have been fighting with a girl she didn't even know. You can't do anything to her!"

Cherry said weakly: "I opened the door and saw her trying to jump. I—tried to keep her from it."

"Well we'll find out more about that at headquarters." Brannan did not look convinced. "Pull yourself together. You'll have to come along with me."

"You can't take her," Lola sobbed. "I won't let you! She hasn't done anything."

"You're going too," said the officer. "So is your host and a few other guests. It'll be quite a party I' thinkin' before it's settled."

Dazedly Cherry got up a little later, her legs shaking until she could scarcely take a step.

"May I call my sister?" she asked the policeman. "I—I want to let her know."

"You can have her called from headquarters." Officer Brannan took her arm. "When you know where you're going to be, and what charge you're going to be held on, if any. The desk sergeant takes care of that."

The next two hours were a nightmare of photographers and reporters and detectives. Lola stuck by Cherry through it all, snapping frequently at a particularly persistent member of the press, or a detective who seemed to doubt that Cherry was telling the truth.

Si seemed completely broken up over what had happened. In an interview he told reporters that Patsy Lloyd was "the finest kid I've ever known." She was different he said from most of the others, and he would marry her in a minute if it weren't for the difference in their ages.

He hadn't wanted to run her life. She didn't belong in a crowd like this. Patsy was different. No he wasn't engaged to Fifi Du Bois. It was only a publicity stunt to help her get a start in this country. Si would have said anything to clear the name of the little girl who had tried to end her life for love of him.

Worse than almost anything happening to Cherry was the knowledge that Brett Hobart had run away and left her alone to face the police. She had been so sure they would be married. So certain that he wouldn't be able to live without her. Cherry had always been entirely conceited where men were concerned. Hadn't she been told all her life how beautiful she was, and that no man could resist her.

Beating through her tired brain as question after question was fired at her was the humiliation of Brett's desertion. If she'd been a debutante he wouldn't have dared do such a thing! She was just a model he liked to show off because she looked like a million dollars, and because he got publicity for being seen with a girl from Georgettes. What a fool she had been!

A reporter had told her Brett Hobart denied even being at the party with her, asserting he had merely met her at the bar. They were only casual friends. When the newspaper men tried to get her to say she would sue the celebrated Hobart heir for breach of promise, she could have screamed with humiliation. What a cheap person they must think her!

Curt De Witt was riding home from the annual dinner of his college fraternity when he turned on the radio in his car and caught the news of Patsy Lloyd's attempted suicide. A voice was saying tonelessly:

"Miss Cherry Lind, a nineteen-year-old model, is being held by police for questioning. Miss Lind is a sister of April Lind, singer and radio star. Miss Lind hysterically denies that she tried to push Miss Lloyd from the terrace during a quarrel."

Curt called to his chauffeur:

"Stop at the next drug store where I can telephone, Mike."

In a booth he phoned April. She was bewildered when she heard his voice at three o'clock in the morning. He knew from her manner that she hadn't heard of Cherry's trouble.

As gently as he could he broke the news and told her that Cherry was being held as a witness.

"You must let me go and take care of everything," he begged April. "I want you to keep out of it, dear. I'll telephone my attorney to meet me at headquarters and we'll see that everything possible is done for Cherry."

"Oh," April cried, "I feel I must go to her, Curt."

"You'll only let yourself in for a lot of unpleasantness." Curt assured her gravely. "You can't do her any good. Gates Quill is the best lawyer in New York. We'll have her home in no time. You don't want to be photographed and grilled by a crowd of hungry news hounds."

April awakened Gay and together they waited for further word from Curt De Witt. It seemed an eternity before he telephoned that he was on his way out to Douglaston with Cherry, but it was actually less than two hours. He had taken full responsibility for her release.

The morning papers blazoned headlines of the penthouse terrace scandal and on the front page of every paper in New York were pictures of Cherry Lind. A frightened subdued Cherry whose pansy eyes held only terror and bewilderment.

She collapsed completely when Curt brought her home, and fainted again in April's arms. In the afternoon Patsy Lloyd regained consciousness and told the true story of what had happened on the Winters roof. She had received only a slight scalp wound and was suffering from hysteria.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T SEND A BOY

"DON'T SEND a boy on a man's errand" is an often-heard admonition at the bridge table when a player ruffs a trick with such a small trump that his opponent is able to over-ruff it. All of us have seen careless declarers do this, when they have enough high trumps to spare one and eliminate the danger of an over-ruff. In fact, I wonder who among us has not done it himself.

North was tempted to continue that funny bidding—the kind which pretty good players sometimes do in rubber bridge—by bidding 6-Hearts, but it is a good thing he didn't. Or at least it should have been a good thing, for South had a chance to make his contract.

West led the diamond 9, and the declarer refused to finesse, because of East's bids, and came right up with the A. Wishing to send a spade toward the Q, he came to his hand with the club 6 to the A and led the spade 10, which the A took. West offered the diamond 4 to the 8, 10 and a ruff by the spade 2. The spade 4 was taken by the K, dropping the Q and J, and the heart 3 returned to the A. The club J was scored, the heart K for a club discard and the diamond Q led, covered by the K.

South ruffed that with the spade 5, and was discombobulated to see West put on the spade 8 and 9, both of which were high. He could have ruffed that diamond with either of those and used the other to drop the 6, leaving the rest of his hand good. We wonder how long it will be before he forgets that terrific play.

Your Week-End Lesson.

If your partner bids the same suit three times, does that show he insists on the hand being played in that suit? Does the fact that he used a forcing jump the first time make his three bids oblige you to let him play it in that suit? If not, what does a series of three consecutive bids of the same suit show? And what should you do about it after you hear his third bid?

Mansfield Braves Take 4th Consecutive Win 10-7

Stop Tiffin Mud Hens In Two Big Innings

Braves Pile Up 10 Runs In Third and Fourth

The Mansfield Braves could modestly acknowledge the beginning of a winning streak today following their fourth consecutive triumph of the week after last night's 10-7 victory over the Tiffin Mud Hens at Norwalk.

The win inched the battling Braves a half game nearer Chappy Geygan's league leading Fremont club as Fostoria took the measure of the Green Sox last night 5-3. The Braves are now five and one half games behind the leaders.

Mansfield's win came last night as the result of two big innings, the third and fourth. The Braves' ten runs came on a four-run salvo in the third and a six-run rally in the fourth.

Harry Siegbert and Bobbie Ankrum clouted the pill for homers in the fray while Mutryn, TeStruth and Mangan slipped through for a stolen base apiece.

Jim Coleman gave the Mud Hens ten bingles while the Braves bombarded Warner, Fox and Gerlach for 12 hits. Fox replaced Warner in the Braves' big fourth inning.

Coleman fanned two and gave up six bases on balls. In addition to the 10 runners that crossed the plate for Mansfield the Braves left another seven men on the bases.

With only 10 days remaining before the end of the Ohio State league season, Fremont's Green Sox can hit the mathematical clincher on the second half flag by the first of the week. The Sox won the first half, eliminating possibility of a play-off. The Braves finished second to the Sox during the first half.

Fostoria, showing vast improvement over its cellar position of the first half, still can overhaul the Braves for second place. Tiffin and Lima have staged a ding-dong battle for fourth, with both fairly certain of escaping the cellar. After winning the pennant in 1939 and finishing second last year, Findlay has slumped into the basement and has little hope of getting out.

The Boston Red Sox have notified the Lima club that Outfielder Gene Kavanaugh, purchased last week from the Pandas, will report to Louisville of the American Association next spring.

The Braves will remain idle tonight. They were scheduled to meet Lima but suitable arrangements to obtain a playing field were unsuccessful.

Novice Rules Target Sport

52-Year-Old Detroiter Takes Grand American.

By FRITZ HOWELL

VANDALIA —(AP)— A 52-year-old novice trapshooter, Walter Lee Tulbert of Detroit, Mich., ruled the clay target sport today after beating a field of 1,093, second largest in history in the 42nd annual grand American handicap.

* * *

Using a second-hand $40 pump gun which he bought to shoot ducks, the Motor City entrant broke 99 of 100 yesterday in the clay target classic to tie Del Bundschuh, 28-year-old Fremont, O., machinist, in a shoot-off featured by the nervousness of each finalist. Tulburt won by breaking 23 of 25 while his younger foe was getting 22. Tulburt appeared to have tossed away all hopes of taking the crown when he missed the fifth and sixth targets in the extra session, but Bundschuh, awed by a gallery of 10,000, "blew" the 12th, 14th and 19th targets to lose.

The unknowns received about $1,500 each for their performance. Tulburt said he'd buy defense bonds with his share, but Bundschuh said he'd have to wait until he "cooled off" before deciding what to do with his.

The new champion, although a high-ranking skeet shot, has been shooting over traps only a month or so. His best score until he blasted all but the 98th in yesterday's string, was 89.

The women's championship went to Miss W. Marie Hill, 29, of Kensas City. A few years ago she hired Fred Etchen, noted instructor, to teach her to shoot so that she could hunt quail for her father, who had failing eyesight.

Back of the two amateur leaders, with 98 each were F. B. Noble of Newton Falls, O.; P. O. Harbage of West Jefferson, O.; and M. D. Roberts of Middleton, Conn., who finished in that order in the shoot-off.

H. F. Ehler of San Antonio, Tex., won the professional crown with 97 of 100, while Vic Reinders, University of Wisconsin chemistry professor from Waukesha, took the all-around title with 874 of 900.

The big shoot attracted 1,093 actual shooters, falling just a bit short of the 1,100 who faced the traps in 1929. About 1,000,000 targets were thrown during the week, and about $50,000 in cash prizes passed out.

Sport Crowd Helps Elect Senator

SAN ANTONIO —(INS)— Generally little is heard concerning a sport crowd's political expression, but some sources say Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel can thank the Texas racing element for help in his recent election to U. S. Senator.

Governor O'Daniel always has been outspoken in his criticism of racing legalized pari-mutuel betting, and promised to veto speedily any measure passed by the legislature to that effect.

On the other hand, Lieut. Gov. Coke Stevenson was said to be friendly toward seeing the bang-tails run, and with O'Daniel's announcement of candidacy, thousands of horse owners, bookies, hay and feed dealers and plain race track followers rallied to the cause, sending O'Daniel to the Senate and Stevenson to the governorship.

Championship Tilt Ends In 2-2 Tie

SHELBY Ohio Seamless Tube company and Shelby Cycle company battled to a tie, 2 to 2, in the second game of the series to determine the champion of the Shelby Softball league played Friday night at municipal water company field on North Gamble street.

After the teams had played three extra innings, Umpire Carl Hipsher called the game in the 10th inning because of darkness.

The Tube company came from behind in the game to score the tieing run in the first half of the final seventh inning. Clabaugh hit a double to bring in Fisher for the tieing run.

The next game in the series will be played at 6 p. m. Monday at the municipal water company field. The Cycle company won the first game in the series 12 to 9.

Bobby Jones Meets Pros In Match Play

DETROIT —(AP)— For the first time in his fabulous career, Bobby Jones was bracketed in match play with the nation's foremost professional golfers as his challengers today began a two-day battle with the American Ryder Cup team.

Jones, who before he retired a decade ago had frequently met and defeated the top-salaried stars in medal play, was in a new role as he paired with Gene Sarazen in a Scotch foursome match against Byron Nelson and Harold (Jug) McSpaden. Tomorrow Bobby will meet a pro yet to be named in an individual match.

Detroit was expected to pay $25,000 in gallery fees ranging from $2 to $5 to see what Tom Walsh, of Chicago, Professional Golfers association president, ranks as golf's all-star show of the season. The United Service Organizations gets the proceeds.

In his final practice round, the 39-year-old Jones toured the Detroit Golf club course in 70, one under par, and gave evidence to the unusually large gallery that he is hitting well.

In today's top match, Hagen paired Vic Ghezzi, national P. G. A. champion, and Jimmy Hines against Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret.

In other matches, Sam Snead and Ralph Guldahl, cuppers, were to meet Craig Wood and Lawson Little; Henry Picard and Dick Metz, cuppers, were paired against Johnny Bulla and Clayton Heafner, and Paul Runyan and Horton Smith, cuppers, were opponents of Denny Shute and Ed Dudley.

Favored To Take Derby

Whirly and Bushwhacker Choice In American.

CHICAGO —(AP)— The end of the rainbow was at the finish line of Washington Park's American derby today, and Chicago racegoers have tagged the $45,000 pot of gold for Whirlaway.

Six horses were named overnight to race Whirlaway at a mile and a quarter for the first place money, but the suspicion prevailed that the other 3-year-olds were angling for the lesser nuggets awaiting the second, third and fouth place winners. The 31st running of the event had a gross value of $60,500 with all seven starting, $46,575 going to the winner.

* * *

Whirlaway was expected to be backed down in the betting to 1 to 5 by post time, about 5:15 p. m. (EST), making him the strongest favorite ever to run in the fixture.

A forecast of fair weather pointed toward a fast track and a heavy turnout of turf followers for the historic race.

Others entered were Walmac Farms Bushwhacker, David Strauss' Daily Trouble, Clarence Davidson's Delray, John Marsch's To-A-Tee, Mrs. Emil Denemark's Valdina Dude and Howard Wells' Happy Pilot.

Jockey Alfred Robertson, who rode Warren Wright's bushy-tailed colt to two victories at Saratoga, was named to pilot Whirlaway, and trainer Ben Jones pronounced heir-apparent to the 3-year-old throne in perfect condition.

Bushwhacker was considered the horse with the best chances of upsetting Whirlaway and Chicagoans remembered the Arlington classic with Whirly the 2 to 5 choice and Attention the winner.

(Pinch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz.)

NEW YORK — (The Special News Service)—The Lawn Tennis association is flying storm signals as the results of tales drifting down from the Newport invitation tournament. . . . One yarn is that the tournament chairman had to appeal to a sporting goods manufacturer to get the entries of some star players he wanted. . . . Another is that a bunch of Californians held out on the national doubles championship, demanding that their expenses for the week should be paid by the Longwood club. . . . The association won't act until somebody comes up with proof. . . . If you think the football season is just starting, ask one of the guys who looks after ticket sales. Anybody who wants to buy one pasteboard for a single game at Minnesota hasn't a chance even this early in the season of landing anywhere but behind the goal posts; Washington may establish a new record for season-ticket sales, and all the other big colleges report a brisk demand.

CONDITION COUNTS

SEA BRIGHT, N. J.—(AP)—Get into condition and forget about your shots. That's the advice of Bitsy Grant, one-time ranking amateur tennis player. "The leading players are so evenly matched now that it doesn't matter so much whether your forehand or backhand is working perfectly. If you are in shape, your strokes will go well enough," he says.

It required a ton of steel to construct the huge clock atop the score board at Wrigley Field, Chicago.

Indians Sink Yankees 5-4; Dean Tries For Third Win

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Indians were back in the groove today, and faced with the novel opportunity of taking a three-game sweep from New York.

Cleveland made it two in a row yesterday, Jim Bagby taking up where Bob Feller left off Thursday, and Chubby Dean got today's assignment for the final game of the series, New York's last local appearance of the season. Dean was a very effective anti-Yankee pitcher when he was with the Athletics. Lefty Gomez, who has won three and lost four against Cleveland, was his hurling rival.

* * *

The Indians' batting power resumed a normal aspect in yesterday's contest as they collected 11 hits, all of them off Marvin Breuer in the first six innings. Roy Weatherly had two singles and a double in four official trips, and Ken Keltner got three singles in four tries.

It has been suspected all season that the Yankees consist of Joe DiMaggio and a bunch of other ball players, and the things that have been happening to Joe McCarthy's club since DiMag turned his ankle Tuesday in Detroit only point up the fact.

Without their big puncher, the Yankees have lost three straight games, making only two scratch hits in one game and submitting rather meekly in the pinches. When Jim Bagby of the Cleveland Indians checked them yesterday, 5 to 4, it was almost too much.

DiMaggio seems to supply most of the inspiration for the Yanks. Charlie Keller, who is a sluggeroo when Joe is in there hitting in front of him, has hit safely only once in the past three contests, and that was a scratch single. The other Yanks appear similarly affected.

Luckily for the New Yorkers, their lead is ridiculously long, so the temporary absence of DiMaggio is nothing to worry about.

Their past two losses cost the Yanks nothing in the standing, for the Chicago White Sox cooled off abruptly and dropped two straight to Boston, yesterday by a score of 2-1. Joe Dobson held the runners-up to six hits, and the Red Sox thereby climbed within a game and a half of second place.

At Detroit, Barney McCoskey came to bat with two out and two mates on base in the last of the ninth inning and cracked a very satisfying homerun. The blow climaxed a five-run last-ditch rally that licked Washington, 5-4.

Frankie Hayes clouted a seventh-inning homer as the Athletics nosed out the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 4.

Brooklyn's game and a half lead over the St. Louis Cards in the National league remained unchanged as both won yesterday and moved a notch nearer their clash tomorrow at Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers scored an easy one over the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 5, but the crippled Cardinals had a struggle to overcome the Phillies, 4 to 2, in 10 innings.

Cincinnati's headlong dash toward the top was halted by Jim Tobin of the Boston Braves, who set the world champions down 9 to 1.

Pittsburgh ganged Bob Bowman for three runs in the eighth, including a homer by Maurice Van Robays, to down the collapsible Giants, 5 to 3.

County Fair Races Are Big Business

POMONA, Cal.—(INS)—Ranked third in California last year in point of take and attendance, the Los Angeles County Fair race meet to be staged September 12-28 will distribute $100,000 in purses in its 20th annual running this year, fair officials announced.

The program calls for racing every day of the 17-day meeting with harness racing on Sunday. There will be a total of 31 running races at $700 and 63 at $600 with six handicaps — the $1500 Governor's, the $2,000 Southern California, the California at $1,000, Los Angeles County Fair Handicap at $1,500 and the Citrus Belt Handicap at $1,000.

Johnny Maluvius has been named racing secretary for the runners division of the meet with Frank Lieginger in charge of the harness section.

Last year attendance was clocked at 750,000. This year a million customers are expected.

Holy Cross is relying upon sophomores to take them back to the football heights this season.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on September 2, 1941 council of the City of Mansfield, Ohio, will meet for the designation of depositories of the active and inactive public funds of said city, and that the period for which the deposits will be awarded shall be for two years from September 2, 1941 to September 2, 1943, pursuant to the following resolution:

RESOLUTION NO. 41-153

By Mr. Miller:

A resolution estimating the aggregate maximum amount of City Funds to be on deposit as inactive deposits, and specifying date for designation of depository funds.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MANSFIELD, STATE OF OHIO:

Section 1. That the aggregate maximum amount of public funds subject to the control of council to be awarded and be on deposit as inactive deposits is hereby estimated at $75,000.00, that the date of designation of depository funds shall be September 2nd, 1941, and the period of such deposits shall be for two years.

Section 2. That the Clerk of Council shall cause a copy of this resolution, together with a notice of the date on which Council will meet for the designation of depositories, and the period for which inactive deposits will be awarded to be published in accordance with Section 7 of the Uniform Depository Law.

Section 3. That this resolution shall be in full force and effect from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed August 5, 1941.
Signed: HOWARD G. MILLER, President of Council.
Attest: WM. J. BEER, JR., Clerk of Council.
Approved: W. J. LOCKE, Mayor.

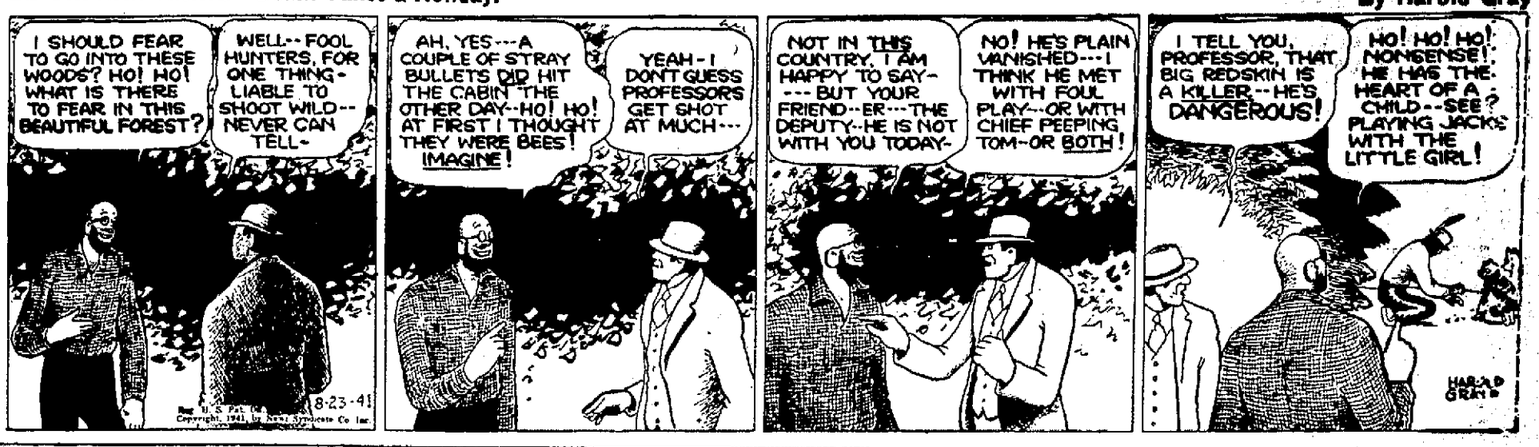
POPEYE—An Impossible Request.

KING NEPTUNE IS WORRYIN', EH? TELL HIM I SEZ, IF HE DON'T STOP, HE WILL GET WRINKLES IN HIS FOREHEAD
POPEYE SAVED MY LIFE, DAVY
WE MUST REWARD POPEYE, MY DEAR
YES, I THINK YOU SHOULD
YA KIN TELL HIM WRINKLES WILL HELP HOLD HIS HAT ON — BUT HE DON'T WEAR HATS
POPEYE, YOU SAVED MY WIFE'S LIFE. I SHALL GRANT ANY REQUEST WITHIN MY POWER — YES, ANY REQUEST UNDER THE SEA
OKAY, DAVY JONES
I WANTCHA TO PROMISE YA WILL NEVER — NEVER-NEVER PULL THE STOPPER OUT OF THE HOLE IN THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA
WHAT?? THAT'S ASKING TOO MUCH!!
YOU MUST PROMISE, DAVY!

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—Death Takes a Holiday. By Harold Gray



I SHOULD FEAR TO GO INTO THESE WOODS? HO! HO! WHAT IS THERE TO FEAR IN THIS BEAUTIFUL FOREST?
WELL-- FOOL HUNTERS, FOR ONE THING - LIABLE TO SHOOT WILD-- NEVER CAN TELL-
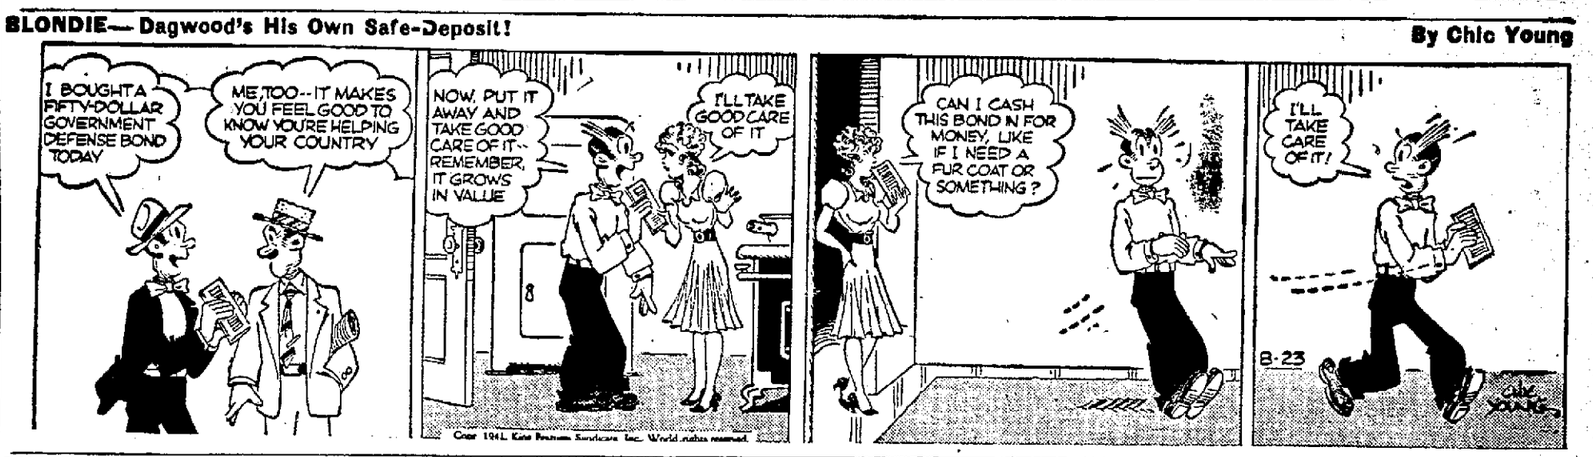
AH, YES--- A COUPLE OF STRAY BULLETS DID HIT THE CABIN THE OTHER DAY--HO! HO! AT FIRST I THOUGHT THEY WERE BEES! IMAGINE!
YEAH - I DON'T GUESS PROFESSORS GET SHOT AT MUCH---
NOT IN THIS COUNTRY, I AM HAPPY TO SAY--- BUT YOUR FRIEND--ER---THE DEPUTY--HE IS NOT WITH YOU TODAY-
NO! HE'S PLAIN VANISHED---I THINK HE MET WITH FOUL PLAY--OR WITH CHIEF PEEPING TOM--OR BOTH!
I TELL YOU, PROFESSOR, THAT BIG REDSKIN IS A KILLER--HE'S DANGEROUS!
HO! HO! HO! NONSENSE! HE HAS THE HEART OF A CHILD--SEE? PLAYING JACKS WITH THE LITTLE GIRL!
HAROLD GRAY

BLONDIE—Dagwood's His Own Safe-Deposit! By Chic Young



I BOUGHT A FIFTY-DOLLAR GOVERNMENT DEFENSE BOND TODAY
ME, TOO--IT MAKES YOU FEEL GOOD TO KNOW YOU'RE HELPING YOUR COUNTRY
NOW, PUT IT AWAY AND TAKE GOOD CARE OF IT--REMEMBER, IT GROWS IN VALUE
I'LL TAKE GOOD CARE OF IT
CAN I CASH THIS BOND IN FOR MONEY, LIKE IF I NEED A FUR COAT OR SOMETHING?
I'LL TAKE CARE OF IT!

PAM—"Double Check!" By A. W. Brewerton

I'M GOING TO CALL MR. APPLEBY — DOUBLE CHECK THIS THING — I CAN PRETEND I WASN'T SURE ABOUT THAT LAWYER'S ADDRESS! OH, I HOPE HE'S STILL IN HIS OFFICE!
THE GENIAL MR. APPLEBY WAS IN, ALL RIGHT!
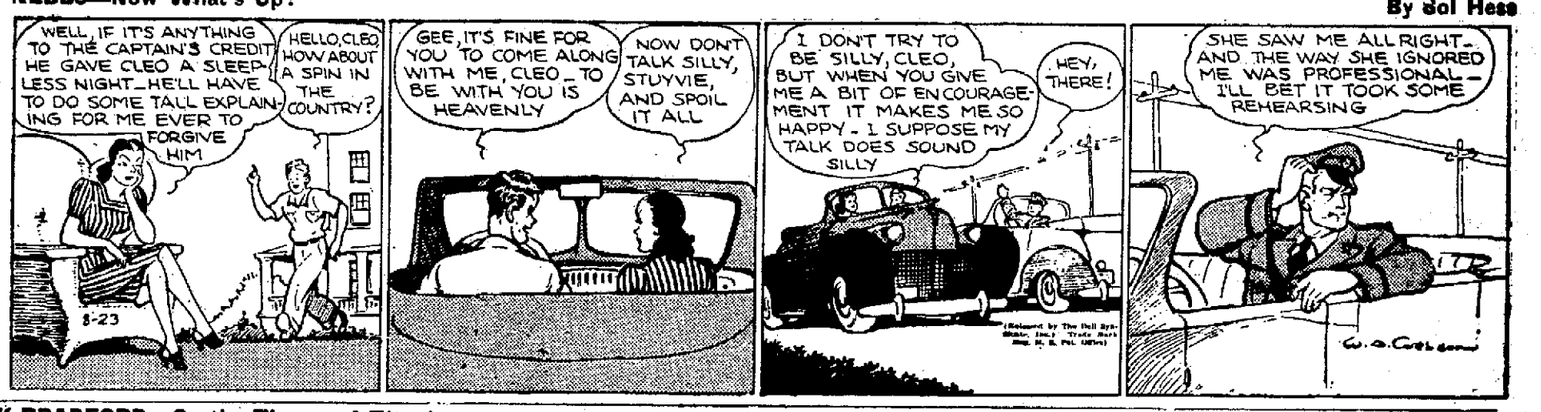
OH, GOOD MORNING, MISS PAM! HOW ARE YOU THIS — AH — BRIGHT MORNING?
PAM FELT INSTANTLY HER FEARS HAD BEEN WELL FOUNDED!
I'M FINE, THANK YOU, MR. APPLEBY. I CALLED JUST TO BE SURE ABOUT THAT ADDRESS — WHERE YOU WANT ME TO MEET YOU WITH THE OPTION
WHY — WHY, DID I UNDERSTAND YOU TO SAY I WANT YOU TO MEET ME WITH THE OPTION? — WHY — I — AH — I DON'T UNDERSTAND YOU, MISS PAM?
BREWERTON

THE NEBBS—Now What's Up? By Sol Hess



WELL, IF IT'S ANYTHING TO THE CAPTAIN'S CREDIT HE GAVE CLEO A SLEEPLESS NIGHT - HE'LL HAVE TO DO SOME TALL EXPLAINING FOR ME EVER TO FORGIVE HIM
HELLO, CLEO HOW ABOUT A SPIN IN THE COUNTRY?
GEE, IT'S FINE FOR YOU TO COME ALONG WITH ME, CLEO - TO BE WITH YOU IS HEAVENLY
NOW DON'T TALK SILLY, STUYVIE, AND SPOIL IT ALL
I DON'T TRY TO BE SILLY, CLEO, BUT WHEN YOU GIVE ME A BIT OF ENCOURAGEMENT IT MAKES ME SO HAPPY - I SUPPOSE MY TALK DOES SOUND SILLY
HEY, THERE!
SHE SAW ME ALL RIGHT - AND THE WAY SHE IGNORED ME WAS PROFESSIONAL - I'LL BET IT TOOK SOME REHEARSING

WANTED FOLKS WHO NEED $20 TO $500 TO INVESTIGATE OUR LOAN PLAN

Rates are not the same at all loan companies. We publish our payments and our rate of charge to help you shop for a loan.

Loans made three ways: (1) on signature; (2) on car; (3) on furniture. No endorsers. Friends or relatives are not told. Fair treatment in case of sickness or unemployment. Payments include charges of 3% monthly on balances of $300 or less and 2½% monthly on any remainder—the same rate to everyone. Nothing else to pay. To apply—phone, write or visit office. Money ready next day—or sooner if necessary.

LOOKS LIKE WASHINGTON

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(U.P.)—"Where have I seen him before" murmur observant dining car patrons when they pass Frederick B. Cole, steward on a New York express train. The reason is that he strikingly resembles George Washington. And he is a sixth cousin to the first President.

Ohio has eight cities with 100,000 or more persons—Cleveland, Cincinnati, Akron, Canton, Columbus, Dayton, Toledo and Youngstown.

FAINT RECOVERY TREND OBSERVED IN EARLY MART

Some Leaders Up Fractions; Boardrooms Note Lumber Consumption Increase.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Recovery trends appeared in today's early stock market dealings but most were rather faint.

Up fractions at a slow opening were U. S. Steel, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft and Consolidated Edison. Small declines were recorded for Sears Roebuck, General Electric and United Aircraft.

Among items scanned by boardroom students were:

The Department of Commerce estimated lumber consumption in the first half of 1941 amounted to 15,547,000,000 feet, an increase of 16.5 per cent over the comparable period last year.

Securities and exchange statistics disclosed odd-lot traders in the New York market during the week of Aug. 16 placed orders to sell 320,037 shares and buying orders for 295,472 shares.

Police Check On Looting of Six Autos In City

and a ventilator had been broken in his auto while it was parked in front of 399 North Main street.

A Columbus resident. Cecil L. Campbell, told police that the handle to the rear compartment of his auto had been battered off in an attempt to rifle the compartment. His car was parked on East Second street.

Clothing valued at approximately $100 was stolen from an auto owned by Raymond A. Wolfe, York, Pa., while it was parked on East First street, Thursday. Tom Reader, 303 West Fifth street, reported a $40 radio stolen from his car on the same night.

Thieves made an unsuccessful attempt to steal tools from the truck of Sherman Hilton, 191 Chilton avenue, Wednesday night. Hilton had removed the tools earlier.

INJURED MAN FOUND

WARREN — (INS) — Found in a clump of weeds by a passing motorist, John T. Kralick, 35, of Youngstown, died an hour later in a hospital. Police of Ohio and Pennsylvania began a search today for the driver of the car which was believed to have struck Kralick.

This Much Gas For One Day's War Maneuvers

Civilian motorists in the East are threatened with a gasoline shortage, and here is a demonstration of the reason why. This is the Lake Charles, La., gasoline depot of the Third army, now preparing for maneuvers, and being unloaded from tank cars is just a portion of the 45,000 gallons of gasoline and oil used in a single day by the Third's 3,000 motor units. Similar depots are scattered over Texas and Louisiana.

LAUDS ARMY'S TANK FIGHTERS

neuvers preparatory to next month's war games between the Second and Third armies.

Umpires ruled that the mobile destroyer force, designed chiefly for repelling and routing enemy tank attacks, scored a decisive victory, "throwing up a fire superiority that no tank could drive through."

Gen. Beightler, witnessing the mock battle with Generals Walter Kreuger, commander of the third army, and Leslie J. McNair, chief of general headquarters staff, Washington, said he was especially pleased with the performance, which Brig. Gen. L. S. Conelly of Cleveland directed.

Hustled into position only five minutes ahead of the onrushing tank battalion despite a collapsed bridge, the unit set up a simulated barrage that repelled the invaders.

"It probably was the most colorful and effective of the maneuver's opening exercises," Beightler remarked.

In other opening maneuvers, Ohio troops have been subjected to nearly every type of modern warfare, the commander said.

A raid by eight bombers (dropping broken sand bombs) greeted the general and his staff as they pulled into this sector. Umpires ruled the bombardiers' efforts "ineffectual" as Beightler succeeding in scattering his men, and the explosives missed their targets.

TILLIE THE TOILER

OH, MISS JONES, SOME BIG SHOT WITH OODLES OF BAGGAGE JUST ARRIVED
HE'S IN THE LOBBY NOW
GEE
IT WOULD BE WONDERFUL TO HAVE A REALLY WEALTHY MAN AROUND THIS PLACE
BIG SHOT! WALLY WHIPPLE! THE BIG SHOW-OFF
RUSS CRESTOVER
WALLY' ACTING LIKE A BIG SHOT WITH ALL THAT BAGGAGE
WELL, YOU'D RATHER BE SEEN WITH A BIG SHOT, WOULDN'T YOU?
I SUPPOSE SO
THEN DON'T SPOIL IT - I'LL BE DOWN AS SOON AS I UNPACK
OH
TELEPHONE BOOKS! IS THAT WHAT THE OTHERS ARE FULL OF?
SORRY SIR
ERROR
ONLY ONE BELL-HOP SAW THAT SUITCASE WAS FULL OF 'PHONE BOOKS - I PAID HIM TO KEEP QUIET
YOU'D BETTER
BUT SINCE I'M PRETENDING TO BE A BIG SHOT, I DO LOOK LIKE ONE, DON'T I?
YOU DO, WALLY
HMM
THEY SAY THAT MAN ON THE DOCK IS REALLY THE GREAT SWARTNEY
SHHH! SOUND TRAVELS ON THE WATER
YOU FORGET THAT MR SWARTNEY IS THE BIG SHOT BROKER WHO WENT TO THE PEN
RUSS CRESTOVER
WALLY'S PRETENDING TO BE A BIG SHOT NOW EVERYONE SAYS HE'S REALLY MR SWARTNEY
THAT BROKER WHO WENT TO JAIL'
TELL HIM TO QUIT PRETENDING, BEFORE SOMETHING AWFUL HAPPENS
I'LL DO THAT
HE WENT THIS WAY - I'M GOING TO SAVE HIM SOME SERIOUS TROUBLE
I LOST $5,000 IN YOUR COMPANY, MR SWARTNEY, AND I'LL TAKE IT OUT OF YOUR HIDE
BOP
RUSS CRESTOVER
STOP HITTING HIM! - HE ISN'T MR SWARTNEY, THE BROKER
NO, I'M NOT WHAT?
GEE MISTER, FORGIVE ME FOR SOCKING YOU - I THOUGHT YOU WERE THAT CROOKED BROKER
I GUESS I'M TO BLAME
SAY, AREN'T YOU ROGER WHIMSLEY THAT PLAYS THE BIG-SHOT PARTS IN THE MOVIES? MY MA SAYS YOU ARE
THERE! YOU SEE WHAT PRETENDING YOU'RE A BIG SHOT BRINGS YOU
ROGER WHIMSLEY! THAT AWFUL HAM
RUSS CRESTOVER
FINE, WALLY - YOU'RE IN YOUR ORDINARY CLOTHES - FROM NOW ON WE WON'T PRETEND YOU'RE A BIG SHOT - YOU'RE JUST WHAT YOU ARE OKAY
MR CARVEL, MAY I PRESENT MR. WHIPPLE?
GLAD TO KNOW YOU
MR. WHIPPLE
HUH! I'M NOT FOOLED - THAT GUY'S NAME REALLY ISN'T WHIPPLE -
WHAT?
HIS REAL NAME IS WHAY AND HE'S A LUG WHO MANAGED TO STAY ON RELIEF THREE YEARS
YOU'RE WRONG, BUT EXCUSE ME FOR LAUGHING

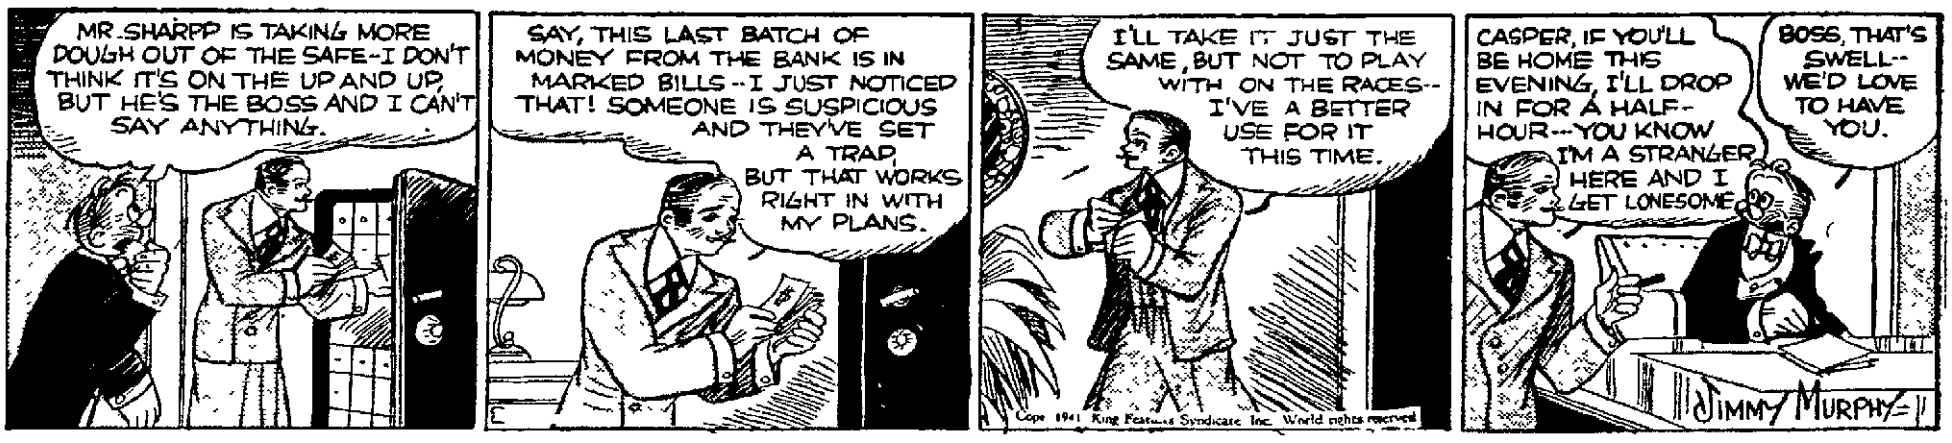
THE NEW BOSS, KARLO SHARPP SURE LOOKS UPSET ABOUT SOMETHING--ALL HE DOES IS PACE THE FLOOR OR TAP THE DESK WITH HIS FINGERS
I'M IN A JAM! I'M IN DEEPER THAN I THOUGHT! IN CHECKING UP I FIND I'VE ALREADY HELPED MYSELF TO $12,000.00 OF THE FIRM'S DOUGH AND LOST IT ON THE RACES---AND THE AUDITORS ARE DUE TOMORROW TO GO OVER THE BOOKS!
WELL, WHAT DO YOU WANT?
NOTHING, MR. SHARPP! I WAS JUST GOING TO THE STOCK-ROOM.
OF COURSE! MY NERVES ARE GONE! I MUST QUIET DOWN OR SOMEONE WILL SUSPECT SOMETHING---THAT'S THE NEW SHIPPING CLERK THEY TRANSFERRED HERE FROM THE NORTH--I'M SO JITTERY I JUMP IF A PIN DROPS.
JIMMY MURPHY
Copr 1941 King Features Syndicate Inc. World rights reserved



MR. SHARPP IS TAKING MORE DOUGH OUT OF THE SAFE--I DON'T THINK IT'S ON THE UP AND UP, BUT HE'S THE BOSS AND I CAN'T SAY ANYTHING.
SAY, THIS LAST BATCH OF MONEY FROM THE BANK IS IN MARKED BILLS--I JUST NOTICED THAT! SOMEONE IS SUSPICIOUS AND THEY'VE SET A TRAP, BUT THAT WORKS RIGHT IN WITH MY PLANS.
I'LL TAKE IT JUST THE SAME, BUT NOT TO PLAY WITH ON THE RACES--I'VE A BETTER USE FOR IT THIS TIME.
Copr 1941 King Features Syndicate Inc. World rights reserved
CASPER, IF YOU'LL BE HOME THIS EVENING, I'LL DROP IN FOR A HALF-HOUR---YOU KNOW I'M A STRANGER HERE AND I GET LONESOME BOSS, THAT'S SWELL--WE'D LOVE TO HAVE YOU.
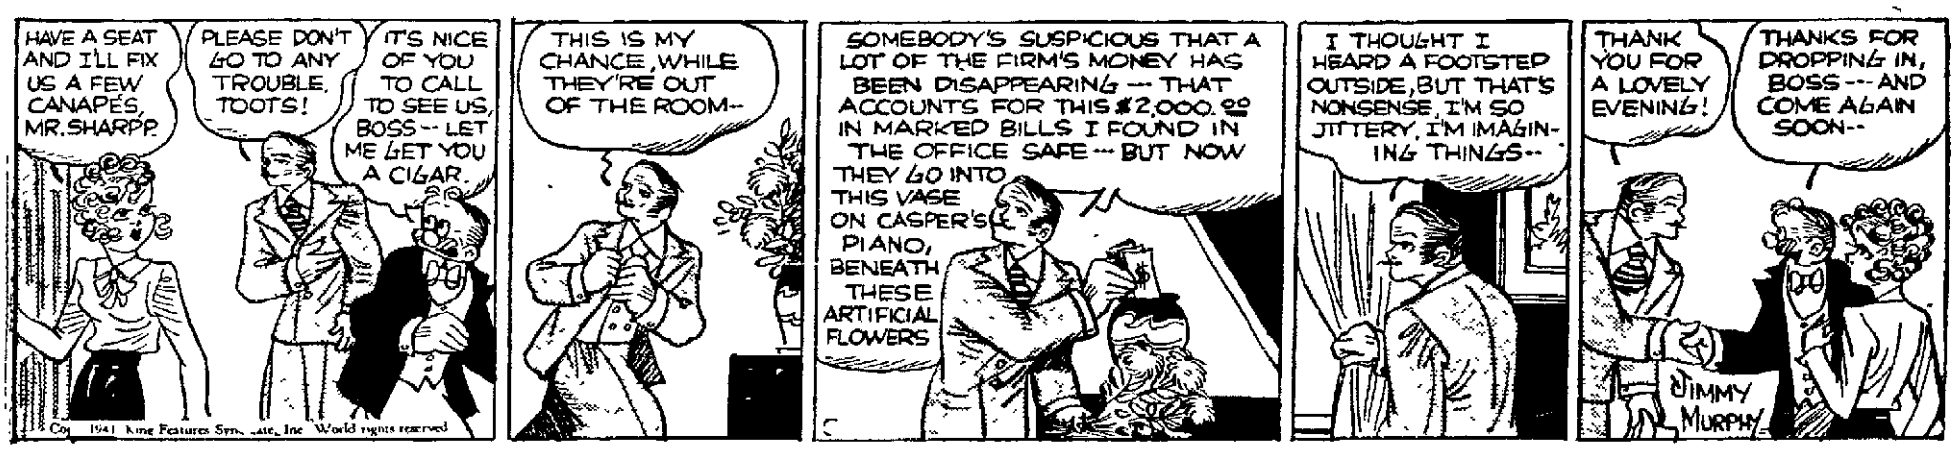
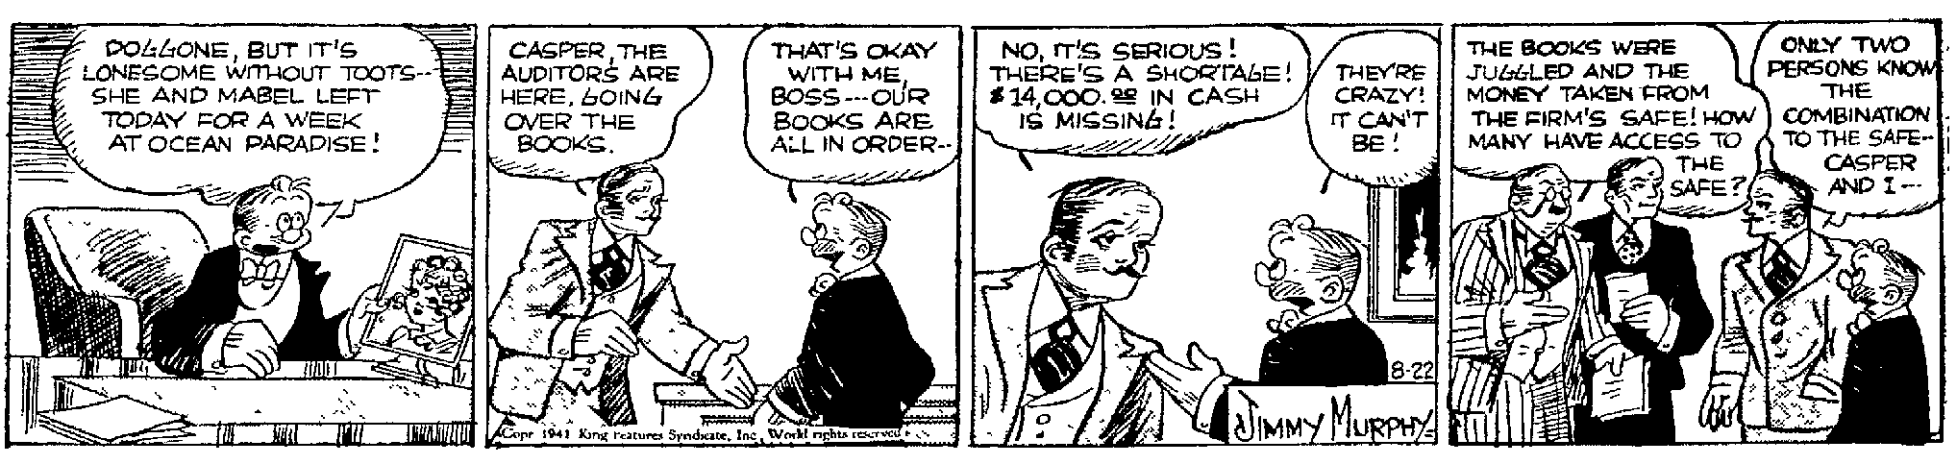
JIMMY MURPHY



HAVE A SEAT AND I'LL FIX US A FEW CANAPES, MR. SHARPP.
PLEASE DON'T GO TO ANY TROUBLE, TOOTS!
IT'S NICE OF YOU TO CALL TO SEE US, BOSS--LET ME GET YOU A CIGAR.
Copr 1941 King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved
THIS IS MY CHANCE, WHILE THEY'RE OUT OF THE ROOM--
SOMEBODY'S SUSPICIOUS THAT A LOT OF THE FIRM'S MONEY HAS BEEN DISAPPEARING --- THAT ACCOUNTS FOR THIS $2,000.00 IN MARKED BILLS I FOUND IN THE OFFICE SAFE --- BUT NOW THEY GO INTO THIS VASE ON CASPER'S PIANO, BENEATH THESE ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS
I THOUGHT I HEARD A FOOTSTEP OUTSIDE, BUT THAT'S NONSENSE, I'M SO JITTERY, I'M IMAGINING THINGS--
THANK YOU FOR A LOVELY EVENING!
THANKS FOR DROPPING IN, BOSS --- AND COME AGAIN SOON--
JIMMY MURPHY

CASPER, I'M WORRIED--LAST NIGHT I DREAMT THAT YOU WERE IN TROUBLE---I CAN'T REMEMBER EXACTLY WHAT, BUT MAYBE IT WAS AN EVIL OMEN.
FORGET IT, TOOTS--DREAMS USUALLY TURN OUT JUST THE OPPOSITE.
I SUPPOSE SO! OH, WHAT I STARTED TO SAY, IS MABEL WANTS ME TO GO TO OCEAN PARADISE WITH HER FOR A WEEK! ANY OBJECTIONS?
YOU GO RIGHT AHEAD DEAR--THE CHANGE WILL DO YOU GOOD, BUT I'LL SURE MISS YOU!
I STILL CAN'T IMAGINE WHY YOUR NEW BOSS, KARLO SHARPP, DROPPED IN TO SEE US LAST NIGHT!
I CAN'T EITHER, TOOTS, BUT STOP WORRYING AND PACK UP FOR YOUR TRIP.
Copr 1941 King Features Syndicate Inc. World rights reserved
BENEATH THE ARTIFICIAL FLOWERS IN THE VASE ON CASPER'S PIANO IS THE MARKED MONEY, PLANTED THERE BY KARLO SHARPP LAST NIGHT---NO WONDER HE LAUGHS IN TRIUMPH---THAT'S WHY HE CALLED AT CASPER'S.
YES, TOOTS IS A LOVELY GIRL--SWEET-BEAUTIFUL-ALLURING--
JIMMY MURPHY



DOGGONE, BUT IT'S LONESOME WITHOUT TOOTS--SHE AND MABEL LEFT TODAY FOR A WEEK AT OCEAN PARADISE!
CASPER, THE AUDITORS ARE HERE, DOING OVER THE BOOKS.
THAT'S OKAY WITH ME, BOSS---OUR BOOKS ARE ALL IN ORDER--
Copr 1941 King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
NO, IT'S SERIOUS! THERE'S A SHORTAGE! $14,000.00 IN CASH IS MISSING!
THEY'RE CRAZY! IT CAN'T BE!
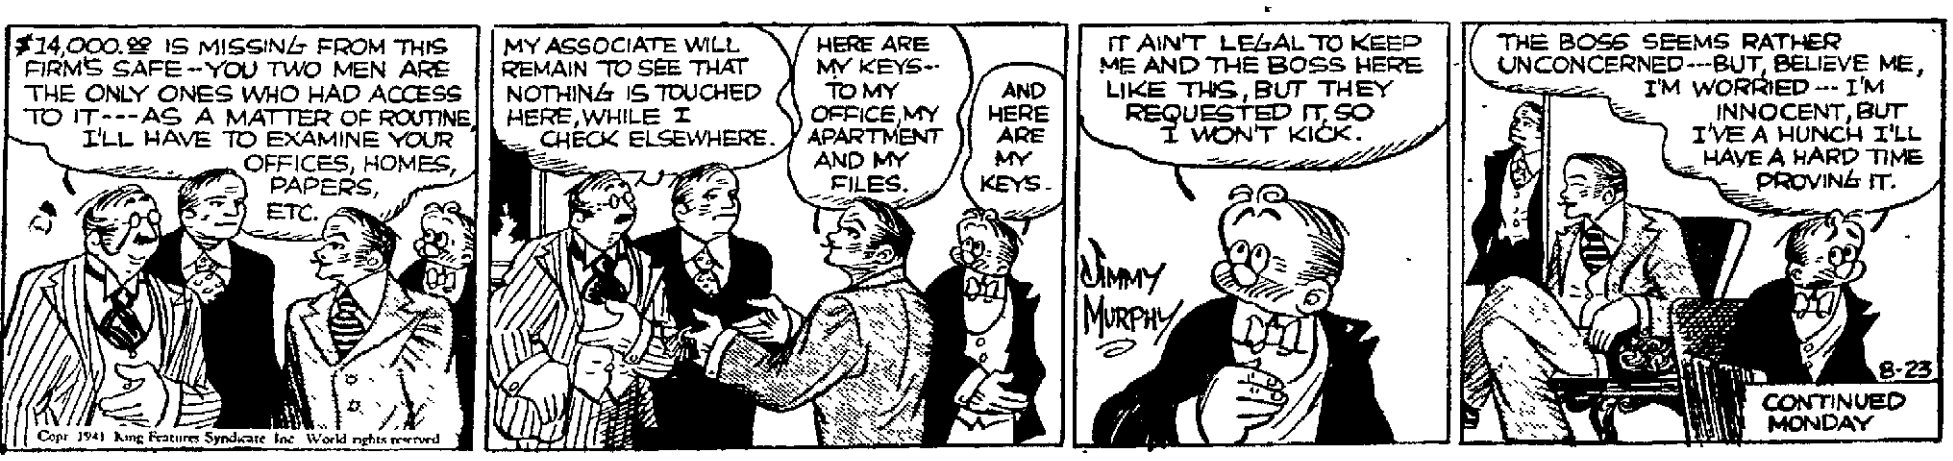
JIMMY MURPHY
THE BOOKS WERE JUGGLED AND THE MONEY TAKEN FROM THE FIRM'S SAFE! HOW MANY HAVE ACCESS TO THE SAFE?
ONLY TWO PERSONS KNOW THE COMBINATION TO THE SAFE--CASPER AND I--



$14,000.00 IS MISSING FROM THIS FIRM'S SAFE--YOU TWO MEN ARE THE ONLY ONES WHO HAD ACCESS TO IT---AS A MATTER OF ROUTINE, I'LL HAVE TO EXAMINE YOUR OFFICES, HOMES, PAPERS, ETC.
Copr 1941 King Features Syndicate Inc. World rights reserved
MY ASSOCIATE WILL REMAIN TO SEE THAT NOTHING IS TOUCHED HERE, WHILE I CHECK ELSEWHERE.
HERE ARE MY KEYS--TO MY OFFICE, MY APARTMENT AND MY FILES.
AND HERE ARE MY KEYS.
IT AIN'T LEGAL TO KEEP ME AND THE BOSS HERE LIKE THIS, BUT THEY REQUESTED IT, SO I WON'T KICK.
JIMMY MURPHY
THE BOSS SEEMS RATHER UNCONCERNED---BUT, BELIEVE ME, I'M WORRIED --- I'M INNOCENT, BUT I'VE A HUNCH I'LL HAVE A HARD TIME PROVING IT.

SECRET AGENT X-9

THAT OFFICER AND HIS ALLEGED WIFE—I AM CERTAIN THEY ARE SPIES!
OBVIOUSLY! AND IT WAS HE WHO PLACED THIS RADIO ON THE ROOF OF THE TRAIN, TUNED TO A REBEL STATION!
THEN HE PULLED THE EMERGENCY CORD AND ESCAPED WITH HIS FEMALE ACCOMPLICE THROUGH THIS WINDOW!
WE HAVE ACTED LIKE FOOLS!
REMAIN ON THE TRAIN AND TELEGRAPH SECRET POLICE HEADQUARTERS A FULL DESCRIPTION OF THEM BOTH! I SHALL TRY TO TRACK THEM DOWN!
HAIL, VICTORY!
AT THIS MOMENT—A SHORT DISTANCE OFF.
THOSE SECRET COPS ARE WISE TO US BY NOW! THEY'LL BOTTLE UP THE NEIGHBORHOOD! WE'VE GOT TO LAM OUT OF HERE—BUT FAST!
THERE'S A CAR, X-9!
IT IS AN ARMY CAR, X-9! THE DRIVER IS AT THE WHEEL!
CAN'T HELP IT! WE'VE GOT TO CLEAR OUT OF THE DISTRICT BEFORE THOSE SECRET COPS NAB US! MAYBE THE UNIFORM I'M WEARING WILL FOOL THIS GUY!
ATTENTION! WHO COMMANDS THIS CAR?
COLONEL FRANZ, TENTH TANK CORPS, MY CAPTAIN!
GOOD! THIS IS THE RIGHT CAR, THEN! YOU ARE TO PROCEED AT ONCE WITH US TO GENERAL HEADQUARTERS IN THE CAPITAL!
AT YOUR ORDERS, SIR! COLONEL FRANZ WILL ACCOMPANY US?
NO! HE WILL AWAIT YOUR RETURN!
PSS-T! X-9—THE COLONEL!
8-19
THE COLONEL! HOW ARE YOU GOING TO EXPLAIN YOUR BEING ABOUT TO COMMANDEER HIS CAR, X-9?
I'VE GOT A GOOFY IDEA, NIKKI! IT MIGHT WORK—JUST SIT TIGHT!
WHAT GOES FORWARD HERE, CAPTAIN?
A WORD WITH YOU IN PRIVATE, COLONEL. I NEED THE ADVICE OF AN OLDER MAN!
AH! AN ESCAPADE WITH A LADY! MY ER—VAST EXPERIENCE IN SUCH MATTERS IS AT YOUR BECK!
AN ELOPEMENT, COLONEL! THE ANGRY RIVAL IS EXPECTED MOMENTARILY!
LOOK! HE COMES NOW!
WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR? DOES NOT THE BLITZ APPLY EQUALLY WELL TO LOVE AS TO WAR? I WILL ACCOMPANY YOU AND HELP YOU OUTWIT THE YOUNG GOAT!
YOUR RIVAL SEEMS INTENT ON PREVENTING YOUR ELOPEMENT, CAPTAIN! HE HAS TAKEN UP THE PURSUIT ON A MOTORCYCLE! LUCKILY, THIS CAR IS GEARED TO OUTDISTANCE HIM!
ONE WOULD THINK LOVE AND MARRIAGE WERE AGAINST THE LAW!.... SEE..WE ARE LOSING YOUR ANGRY RIVAL!
GREAT!
A HALF-HOUR LATER
THANKS, COLONEL! WE'VE SHAKEN HIM—WE'LL GET OFF HERE, IF YOU DON'T MIND.
BUT I DO MIND!
AFTER ASSISTING IN YOUR ELOPEMENT, I SHOULD LEAVE YOU NOW? NO—I SHALL SEE THAT YOU ARE SAFELY MARRIED BEFORE I SET YOU TWO LOVEBIRDS ADRIFT!
YOU MUST NOT DENY ME THE PLEASURE, CAPTAIN, OF ASSISTING AT YOUR WEDDING TO THIS CHARMING CREATURE! I AM LOOKING FORWARD TO KISSING THE BRIDE!
WOW! THIS GUY REALLY MEANS IT!
BEFORE WE FACE THE MINISTER, COLONEL, THERE'S A LITTLE DETAIL TO BE ATTENDED TO—THE RING! MIND IF WE STOP AT THIS JEWELER'S?
NOT AT ALL!
ONLY IT WOULD SOUND MORE LOGICAL IF YOUR "FIANCÉE" WERE NOT ALREADY MARRIED! SHE IS NIKKI BERGER. THE FAMOUS DANCER, AND ONE OF THE CHIEF OF STATE'S VERY FAVORITE ENTERTAINERS! SECRETLY, SHE PLOTS AGAINST THE REGIME!
YOU KNOW ALL THIS—AND YET HELPED US TO ESCAPE?
YES..BECAUSE I AM ON AN UNDERCOVER JOB, TOO, OLD BEAN—FOR SCOTLAND YARD!
I AM ACCEPTED AS A COLONEL IN THE ARMED FORCES OVER HERE, BUT ACTUALLY I AM DOING UNDERCOVER WORK FOR SCOTLAND YARD! WELL, CHEERIO—AND VICTORY!
BE SEEING YOU, "COLONEL"!
BY THE WAY, I HOPE THIS INCIDENT DOESN'T GET YOU INTO ANY DIFFICULTIES WITH THE SECRET POLICE!
I'VE TALKED MY WAY OUT OF WORSE SPOTS!
A SHORT TIME LATER...
TOBIE INSTRUCTED ME TO HAVE YOU CONTACT DOCTOR KAAL—THE MAN WHO CONTROLS THE DESTINY OF OUR GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, FROM THE TOP DOWN!
WHAT DO YOU MEAN BY THAT, NIKKI?
I MUST LEAVE YOU HERE... HIS HOME IS ACROSS THE STREET! HE EXPECTS YOU—YOU CAN TRUST HIM... YOUR PASSWORD IS, "MY BIRTHDAY IS MARCH TENTH"... VICTORY!
YOU BET! GOODBYE, NIKKI!

POLLY AND HER PALS

MONA TOLD ME THAT IF YOU AREN'T MARRIED BEFORE YOUR NEXT BIRTHDAY - YOU'LL LOSE YOUR INHERITANCE
MONA TOLD YOU? HOW DID SHE KNOW?
YE OLD SWIMMING HOLE
OH, SUSAN TOLD HER!
CONFOUND IT, POLLY! SUSAN PROMISED ME SHE WOULDN'T MENTION IT!
YE OLE SWIMMING HOLE 5 MILES
THAT'S WHAT A MAN GETS FOR CONFIDING IN YOU WOMEN. YOU CAN NEVER KEEP SECRETS!
WHY, BEN! OF COURSE, WE CAN KEEP SECRETS
HMMM! SUSAN TOLD MONA, DIDN'T SHE?
YES... BUT ONLY AFTER MONA PROMISED NOT TO REPEAT IT!
WELCO TO YE OL SWIMM HOLE
YOU'VE SURE SEEN BEN A LOT SINCE HE CAME BACK FROM SOUTH AMERICA, POLLY.
DON'T FORGET WE'VE BEEN FRIENDS SINCE CHILDHOOD!
IT COULDN'T BE HIS MONEY COULD IT, POLLY?
DON'T BE SILLY... BEN HASN'T ANY MONEY
BUT HE'LL INHERIT SOME AT HIGH NOON ON HIS NEXT BIRTHDAY
OH, YES... I VAGUELY REMEMBER SOMETHING ABOUT IT..
BUT GOSH, GIRLS, THAT'S OVER TWO WEEKS, THREE DAYS AND ONE HOUR AWAY!
SEPTEMBER
DO YOU THINK YOU WOULD LIKE SOUTH AMERICA, POLLY?
OH, BEN, I'M SURE I WOULD. I'VE ALWAYS WANTED TO GO THERE!
BUT IT'S SUCH A LONG TRIP FOR A GIRL TO TAKE ALONE.
BUT YOU DON'T HAVE TO GO ALONE, POLLY
DON'T I, BEN?
NO -- IF YOU JUST SAY SO, YOU'D NEVER HAVE TO BE ALONE.
YOU SEE, THIS AGENCY ARRANGES GROUP TOURS
8 20
YOU'RE SEEING TOO MUCH OF THAT YOUNG MAN, POLLY.
YOU MEAN BEN?
YES, WHEN I WAS FIRST BEING COURTED I ALLOWED MY HUSBAND TO CALL ONLY ONCE IN SEVEN DAYS.
YOU NEVER DATED MORE THAN THAT?
AFTER WE WERE ENGAGED I ALLOWED HIM TO VISIT ME ONCE EVERY THREE DAYS
8 21
THAT SOUNDS LIKE GOOD STRATEGY
YES, EXCEPT THAT NOW HE ONLY VISITS HER ABOUT ONCE IN THIRTY DAYS!
I'M AFRAID POLLY IS LOSING HER BEAU.
WHY? BECAUSE BEN IS TEACHING JOAN TO PLAY TENNIS?
8 22
YOU GUESSED RIGHT!
DON'T BE RIDICULOUS. HE TAUGHT POLLY TO PLAY, TOO
YES... BUT HE HAS GIVEN JOAN OVER TEN LESSONS....
...AND HE TAUGHT POLLY TO PLAY IN FIVE!
THE TICKETS WILL BE IN THE BOX OFFICE, BEN?
YES, POLLY -- MY COUSIN RESERVED ONE FOR ME. I'VE GOT TO BUY THE OTHER ONE
HE'S SO CLOSE I'M SURPRISED HE'D EVEN GIVE ME ONE!
IF YOU'RE NOT MARRIED BY YOUR BIRTH-DAY---?
---ISN'T HE THE ONE WHO WILL RECEIVE THE INHERITANCE?
YES, WHY?

...AW!!.. POOR KID!! HIS LITTLE TIN STAR... .... MARKED..... "CHICKEN INSPECTOR"!!
BOY-O BOY, LITTLE OL' REGGIE HAS CERTAINLY WORKED HARD COLLECTIN' OLD ALUMINUM FOR OUR CAMPAIGN!!
YOU SAID IT!! BUT WHAT ON EARTH IS WRONG WITH HIM LATELY? LOOK AT HIS HAIR!! I HAVEN'T SEEN IT COMBED FOR A WEEK!!
SAY REGGIE, I DON'T LIKE TO MENTION IT, BUT WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOUR HAIR LATELY? IT LOOKS AWFUL!! AND YOU USED TO BE SO NEAT ABOUT IT!!
OH, I SAY... I'M TERRIBLY SORRY ABOUT IT.. IT'S SO FINE, UNRULY.. DON'T Y' KNOW!! BUT UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES, OVER HERE, I REALLY DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT..
ER WHAT I MEAN IS... WELL... I USUALLY USE SOMETHING.. BUT WITH YOUR THREATENED OIL SHORTAGE ON YOUR EASTERN SEABOARD 'N' ALL THAT.. AND IN VIEW OF HOW WONDERFUL AMERICA HAS BEEN TO US EVACUEES.... WELL... IT SEEMS THE LEAST I CAN DO, IS TO COOPERATE AND CONSERVE, EVEN IN MINOR WAYS.. DON'T Y' KNOW...
HEY!!.. WAIT!!.. PLEASE, REGGIE.. THAT'S ENOUGH!!... I'M SORRY I BROUGHT IT UP!!.... ER.. THINGS AREN'T THAT BAD.. BUT.. STANDIN' UP OR LYIN' DOWN.. YER HAIR IS BEAUTIFUL!! HONEST.. THE NICEST IN ALL AMERICA!!
OH I SAY NOW.
OH-OH! THE "BATTLING" BROWNS ARE AT IT AGAIN"
COLLECTIN' OLD ALUMINUM FOR DEFENSE
ER, G'MORNING, MR BROWN... IT JUST OCCURRED TO ME THAT YOU MIGHT BE INTERESTED IN CONTRIBUTING TO OUR CAMPAIGN!!
SURE THING, KID! WHY NOT? EASY COME, EASY GO... ...I ALWAYS SAY!! HELP YOURSELF TO ANYTHING YOU CAN USE!!
COLLECTING OLD ALUMINUM FOR DEFENSE
OH. ER... WAIT, SON... NOT THAT LITTLE PAN!!... ANYTHING BUT THAT!! ... THAT LITTLE PAN IS THE FIRST POSSESSION MRS BROWN AND I ACQUIRED AFTER OUR MARRIAGE.... IT'S BEEN THROUGH A LOT WITH US.... ALL OUR BATTLES...
...I'D LIKE TO KEEP IT.. ER. FOR SENTIMENTAL REASONS!!
GEE, PEE-WEE, WHERE'D YOU GET THE PIE?
FROM THE HOUSE, "MOM" WAS BAKING TODAY!!
GOSH, HOWD SHE HAPPEN TO GIVE YOU A WHOLE PIE?
WELL, SHE DIDN'T EXACTLY GIVE ME THE PIE..... WHAT HAPPENED WAS.
I SPOTTED THAT ALUMINUM PIE-PAN ITS IN, SO I ASKED "MOM" IF SHE WOULD GIVE IT TO US FOR OUR OLD ALUMINUM CAMPAIGN 'N' SHE SAID SHE WOULD....
SO?
... SO, FIGURIN' IT'S A NATIONAL EMERGENCY... I WASN'T GOIN' TO WAIT AROUND FOR HER TO TAKE THE PIE OUT!!
CLANG!!
CLANK!!
BANG
CLANG!!
YIP!
YIPE!
YIPE
YIPE!!
OH-OH!! LOOK, EFFIE... SOMEBODY'S GIVEN OLD LEANER "THE BUSINESS" AGAIN!!
HEY, LEANER!! COME HYAR!! LEANER!!
OLD ALUMINUM FOR DEFENSE
THREE-E-E-E-T!
YIP!
YIPE!
YIP!
O.K. EFFIE, IT'S OFF!! SHUX, THERE ISN'T EVEN ONE PIECE OF ALUMINUM IN THE WHOLE OUTFIT!!
THAR!! Y'HYAR THET, LEANER? AH SWAR HIT LOOKS TIME LIKE YEW DON'T EVEN TRY TO BE ENY ACCOUNT!!
NOW GIT GOIN!! 'N' EF YEW JES KAIN'T STAY OUT O TROUBLE GIT INTO A BETTER NEIGHBORHOOD WHAR YA KIN PICK UP SOME ALUMINUM FER A CHANGE!!
GEE, KIDS... IF WE HAD JUST ONE MORE LIL' ALUMINUM PAN.. ABOUT SO BIG... WE'D HAVE OUR QUOTA FILLED!! ...ANYONE GOT ANY IDEAS?
GOSH! I DON'T KNOW WHERE I COULD GET ANOTHER ONE!! DO YOU, TILFORD?
Y'KNOW, I THINK I KNOW WHERE I MIGHT GET ONE!!
I'LL BE BACK IN THE FLESH IN A FLASH!! ..DON'T GO 'WAY, CHUMS!!
FIVE MINUTES LATER....
GEE, MUGGS LOOK!! HERE HE COMES AND HE'S GOT A PAN!!
HOT DOG!! NICE GOIN', TILFORD!! WHERE ON EARTH DID YOU GET IT?
NEVER MIND...
..AND DON'T TOUCH IT.. IT'S STILL RED-HOT!!

TOOTS AND CASPER

GOOD MORNING, ANNIE — HOW WELL YOU ARE LOOKING
THANK YOU, MRS. ROBERT — YOU LOOK SWELL, TOO
I AM SORRY, DEAR, THAT MY ENDLESS SOCIAL ENGAGEMENTS MAKE IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR ME TO ENJOY YOUR COMPANY MORE FREQUENTLY — BUT IN MY POSITION I NEVER HAVE A SPARE MOMENT
YES, MA'AM — I SEE YOUR NAME IN THE PAPER ALL THE TIME — JUST LIKE IF YOU WERE A BIG MOVIN' PICTURE ACTRESS OR SOMETHIN' — AN' YOU ALWAYS LOOK KINDA TIRED ME LOOK TIRED ?? WHY, THE VERY IDEA! I NEVER TIRE — EVERYONE IN OUR SET MARVELS AT MY ENERGY — I HAVEN'T MISSED ONE WORTHWHILE SOCIAL EVENT ALL SEASON!!
DARRELL McCLURE
HONEST, ZERO — I'M TERRIBLE SORRY I CAN'T TAKE YOU OUT FOR YOUR WALK — BUT I JUST GOTTA HURRY AN' TAKE MY TENNIS LESSON — IF I'M LATE, THE TENNIS TEACHER GETS AWFUL MAD
YOU KNOW, IT'S HARD WORK LEARNIN' HOW TO BE RICH — ANYONE KIN BE POOR, BUT WHEN YOU'RE RICH YOU GOTTA SPEND ALL YOUR TIME LEARNIN' THINGS
YOU GOTTA TAKE TENNIS LESSONS — DANCIN' LESSONS — MUSIC LESSONS — LEARN FOREIGN LANGUAGES — HOW TO EAT AN' DRINK THINGS THE RIGHT WAY, AN' IT'S NOT JUST LIKE GOIN' TO SCHOOL AN' LEARNIN' TO READ AN' WRITE — I'M EVEN TAKIN' LESSONS ON HOW TO WALK AN' SIT DOWN AN' STAND UP — 'COURSE, I ALWAYS COULD DO THOSE THINGS — THE TROUBLE IS I DO 'EM ALL THE WRONG WAY!
DARRELL McCLURE
WILL YOU LOOK AT THAT MRS. ROBERT WITH HER NOSE STUCK UP IN THE AIR? ACTING LIKE SHE WAS THE QUEEN OF SHEBA — I KNEW HER WHEN SHE WAS LUCKY TO HAVE ENOUGH TO PAY HER FARE ON A STREET-CAR.'
SHE DOES ACT VERY UPPISHLY SINCE SHE MARRIED CAPTAIN ROBERT — HIS MILLIONS HAVE GONE TO HER HEAD — SHE DOESN'T EVEN PRETEND TO RECOGNIZE HER OLD FRIENDS ANYMORE
SILLY, STUCK-UP THING — I DIDN'T EVEN LIKE HER WHEN SHE WAS A POOR WORKING GIRL — BUT WHAT RILES ME IS, SHE'S RUINING THAT NICE LITTLE GIRL — SHE'S TRAINING THE CHILD TO ACT LIKE A SNOB
DARRELL McCLURE
ALWAYS REMEMBER — YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF AND TO OUR FAMILY TO MAINTAIN YOUR SOCIAL POSITION AT ALL TIMES — WHEN THE RIFF-RAFF HATE YOU — THAT IS A SIGN THAT THEY SECRETLY ACKNOWLEDGE YOUR SUPERIORITY!
HONEST, BOB — I THINK YOU'RE GRAND — EVEN IF YOU ARE RICH, YOU DON'T ACT SNOOTY — YOU LAFF AN' SAY "HELLO" TO EVERYBODY — NICE AN' FRIENDLY JUST LIKE YOU WEREN'T RICH AT ALL
I'M GLAD SOMEONE THINKS WELL OF ME — MOST PEOPLE REGARD ME AS A HIGH-CLASS HOBO — THEY KNOW I'M NOT RICH — I'M MERELY LUCKY OR UNLUCKY ENOUGH TO HAVE A VERY RICH FATHER
I NEVER EARNED A DOLLAR SINCE THE DAY I WAS BORN — I KNOW HOW TO RIDE, DANCE, GAMBLE AND A MILLION WAYS TO SPEND MONEY — BUT NOT A SINGLE, PRACTICAL WAY OF EARNING A PENNY
ALL COLD DRINKS
RED LIGHTS
DARRELL McCLURE
G'WAN, YOU KIN DRIVE A CAR — SO YOU COULD EASY BE A CHAUFFEUR OR DRIVE A TRUCK — CAPTAIN EZRA SEZ YOU'RE A NATURAL-BORN SAILOR — AN' ALL SAILORS MAKE A LIVING, AN' —
TANKS FOR DEM KIND WORDS, LADY — MAYBE IF I DID GET A CHANCE — I MIGHT BE ABLE TO SUPPORT MYSELF
LOOK, ZERO — THERE GOES A COUPLE OF RICH DOGS — YOU KIN TELL JUST BY LOOKIN' AT THEM THEY'RE DIFFERENT FROM COMMON DOGS —
I GUESS THEY NEVER WENT 'ROUND LOOKIN' FOR OLD BONES IN ALL THEIR WHOLE LIFE, AN' I'LL BETCHA IF THEY SAW A DOG-KETCHER THEY WOULDN'T BE SCARED OF HIM AT ALL
MR. BOB SAID THEY'RE WOLFHOUNDS — BUT THERE ARE NO MORE WOLVES TO HUNT, SO NOW THEY'VE BECOME MEMBERS OF THE IDLE RICH AN' NEVER DO ANYTHIN' EXCEPT HAVE THEIR PICTURES TAKEN —
BUT YOU KIN EASY SEE THEY NEVER HAVE ANY FUN — THEY GOTTA SPEND ALL THEIR TIME JUST LOOKIN' 'RISTOCRATIC AN' HIGH-TONED AN' WISHIN' SOME WOLVES WOULD COME ALONG, SO THEY COULD HAVE SOMETHIN' TO DO!
DARRELL McCLURE
HELLO — WHAT'S YOUR NAME? CAN I PET YOUR DOG? I LIKE HIM — I WISH I HAD A LOVELY DOG TO PLAY WITH — WHERE DO YOU LIVE?
MY NAME IS ANNIE ROONEY — I LIVE IN CAPTAIN ROBERT'S HOUSE — ZERO LIKES YOU, TOO — YOU KIN TELL BY THE WAY HE WAGS HIS TAIL IT WILL MAKE HIM FEEL GLAD ALL OVER IF YOU PET HIM
JEN-N-E-E — OH, THERE YOU ARE — COME AWAY AT ONCE — I TOLD YOU TO STAY AWAY FROM THIS FENCE AND NOT BE BOTHERING THE RICH PEOPLE YOUR FATHER WORKS FOR
DARRELL McCLURE
PLEASE DON'T SCOLD HER — I THINK SHE'S A NICE LITTLE GIRL AN' ZERO LIKES HER, TOO
THANK YOU KINDLY, MISS — BUT MRS. ROBERT EXPECTS THE LIKES OF US WHO ARE WORKING FOR HER TO REMEMBER OUR MANNERS

ETTA KETT

FATE landed ETTA and NANCY aboard a battleship somewhere on the HIGH-SEAS, which aren't half as high as their spirits -
ANCHORS AWEIGH." WE'RE OFF TO SEE THE BIG SKIPPER.
SIR, MEET MISS ETTA KETT AND NANCY WILCOX." ADMIRAL ARMOUR PLATE HOPE YOU FIND YOUR QUARTERS COMFORTABLE TILL WE REACH PORT." AND NOW -- WILL YOU HAVE DINNER? AT MY TABLE?
WE'D LOVE TO.
THERE USED TO BE A SUPERSTITION ABOUT WOMEN ON FIGHTING SHIPS." SAILORS THOUGHT IT BAD LUCK." BUT TONIGHT --
THERE'S A MOON --"
- TONIGHT - TWO OF YOU BOYS ARE GOING TO HAVE THE LUCK TO SHOW THESE YOUNG LADIES THE SHIP - AND TAKE THEM TO THE MOVIE."
MOVIES? ON A BATTLESHIP??
IMAGINE ME PUTTING ON THE FEED-BAG WITH THE ADMIRAL OF THE FLEET." HISTORY IS MADE."
WHAT ABOUT THAT MOVIE HE MENTIONED?
SURE THERE'S A THEATRE ON BOARD." WE SEE ALL THE FIRST-RUN PICTURES!
JOIN THE NAVY AND SEE THE WORLD IN A NEWSREEL."
WE'LL SEE YOU IN THE PIZE VIEWS."
HEY." THAT LOOKS LIKE "WHIZZER" -- DIDN'T EXPECT HIM BACK YET."
NOT "WHIZZER" HAWKS - THE GEM OF THE OCEAN?
RIGHT! - AND THE BIGGEST HEARTBREAKER IN THE NAVY, TOO." WAIT TILL HE HEARS THE ADMIRAL GAVE YOU HIS BUNK WILL HE BE BURNT UP."
LET'S WATCH HIM LAND!
AFTER THE PLANE LANDS ON THE WATER, A CRANE LIFTS IT TO THE BATTLE-SHIP DECK
AND THAT'S THE FAMOUS WHIZZER HAWKS, BIGGEST HEART-BREAKER IN THE NAVY."
HI YA, DEPTH BOMB!"
HAVE YERSELF A TIME, SON??
OH, BOY." DATES - PARTIES - DANCES!" I HAVEN'T CLOSED MY EYES IN A WEEK."
THAT'S TOUGH!" BECAUSE SEEIN YOU WASN'T ON DECK, THE ADMIRAL GAVE YOUR BUNK TO A COUPLA DAMES!
GIRLS? HEY, WHAT IS THIS, ANYWAY -- A BATTLESHIP OR A SORORITY HOUSE? MY BUNK?? AND DID YOU SAY GIRLS
I DIDN'T SAY MERMAIDS!
SO THE BIG SKIPPER GAVE MY BUNK TO THOSE TWO GIRLS -- ? -- HE CAN'T DO THAT TO ME!"
THE MOVIE WAS SWELL! THANKS FOR SHOWING US THE SHIP!
GOODNIGHT!
SEE YOU ON DECK IN THE MORNING."
OUR DOOR'S LOCKED!
HEY, WHIZZER!
PUT A DEPTH-BOMB UNDER HIM!"
WAIT TILL I TELL THE ADMIRAL." HE GAVE US THAT BUNK!"
BUT THE ADMIRAL'S ASLEEP!" IF WE WOKE HIM UP HE'D SLAP US IN THE BRIG!"
WHAT'S THE MEANING OF SLEEPING IN MY PRIVATE OFFICE?
WE'RE TERRIBLY SORRY, ADMIRAL PLATE -- BUT HARUMPH!
BUT SOMEONE LOCKED US OUT OF THE ROOM YOU GAVE US!
SEND PILOT HAWKS IN TO ME AT ONCE."
YES, SIR!
AM I GOING TO ENJOY THIS."
HEY WHIZZER." THE BIG SKIPPER WANTS TO SEE YOU!" AND IS HE GOING TO TAN YOUR HIDE FOR LOCKING THOSE GIRLS OUT."
YOU MAY BE THE BEST FLIER IN THE NAVY, BUT WHEN I GIVE ORDERS I WANT THEM OBEYED."
YES, SIR!
I TURNED YOUR BUNK ROOM OVER TO THOSE GIRLS." WHAT WAS THE IDEA, LOCKING THEM OUT?
I LANDED LATE - DIDN'T KNOW YOU HAD ASSIGNED IT TO THEM SIR! SORRY, SIR.
TWO OFFICERS REPORT THEY PRACTICALLY BROKE THE DOOR DOWN - DIDN'T YOU HEAR THAT?
THE ROAR OF THE PLANE MOTOR MADE ME DEAF, SIR!
HARUMPH." WELL, NOW THAT YOU'RE HERE, YOU CAN FLY THEM ASHORE." CAN YOU HEAR THAT?
YES, SIR!
